Surtax Support Slipping Behind

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Ways and Means Committee tentatively agreed today on extension of the income surtax coupled with a special allowance that would take two million low income families off the tax rolls entirely.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Nixon administration appears to have slipped behind in its race to have Congress extend the 10 per cent income tax surcharge by the June 30 expiration date.

And there remained considerable doubt that the extension would pass at all unless the administration changes its present position and speeds up tax reforms to accompany the extension.

While the administration was stepping up its pressure for the surtax, President Nixon called a bipartisan meeting with House leaders today. Among those invited was House Speaker John W. McCormack who told a news conference Wednesday he favors Nixon's proposal to keep the surtax in effect for another year on a diminishing basis.

Meanwhile as the House Ways and Means Committee resumed work on surtax legislation, hopes dimmed for a final committee vote today.

There were these developments in the administration campaign for what it called an urgently needed move to head off runaway inflation.

Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy had an inconclusive session Wednesday with members of the Democratic Study Group—DSG—the organization of moderate and liberal Democrats in the House. DSG veterans said it was the first time a Cabinet member had sought an opportunity to make a plea for legislation directly to the group, which is not a part of the regular Democratic House machinery.

Kennedy told newsmen afterward he thought he had made progress in persuading some members to vote for the surtax without insisting on simultaneous action on tax reforms. But DSG members who talked with reporters said he did not pick up a single vote.

—The White House tried to calm a furor as to whether it might recommend wage and price controls if the surtax is not extended.

Don't Favor Controls

Kennedy, emphasizing that neither he nor the administration generally favors such controls, mentioned them as an ultimate possibility Tuesday. On Wednesday, White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said President Nixon has no plans for such controls and does not contemplate any. Still later he and Kennedy both insisted there was no contradiction—they were both trying to say that wage and price controls were a conceivable last resort against inflation, but that they are not planned.

The administration calculates it needs about 100 Democratic votes to pass the surtax in the House.

Meanwhile, the Treasury made public a joint statement by the six living former secretaries for prompt extension of the surtax. Listed as signers were John W. Snyder, George M. Humphrey, Robert B. Anderson, Douglas Dillon, Henry H. Fowler, and Joseph W. Barr.

School Aid Bill Gets House OK

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken today said he would sign the bill appropriating a record $84.7 million for public school aid "as soon as it reaches my desk."

"It should arrive here from the printers sometime next week," the Governor said.

Milliken said, meanwhile, he hoped educators will act quickly to meet and settle on teacher salaries to avoid any strikes.

"The school districts now know what they can count on for school aid," the Governor said.

The House capped legislative action on the bill Wednesday by voting 89-14 to approve compromise recommended by an inter-chamber negotiating team.

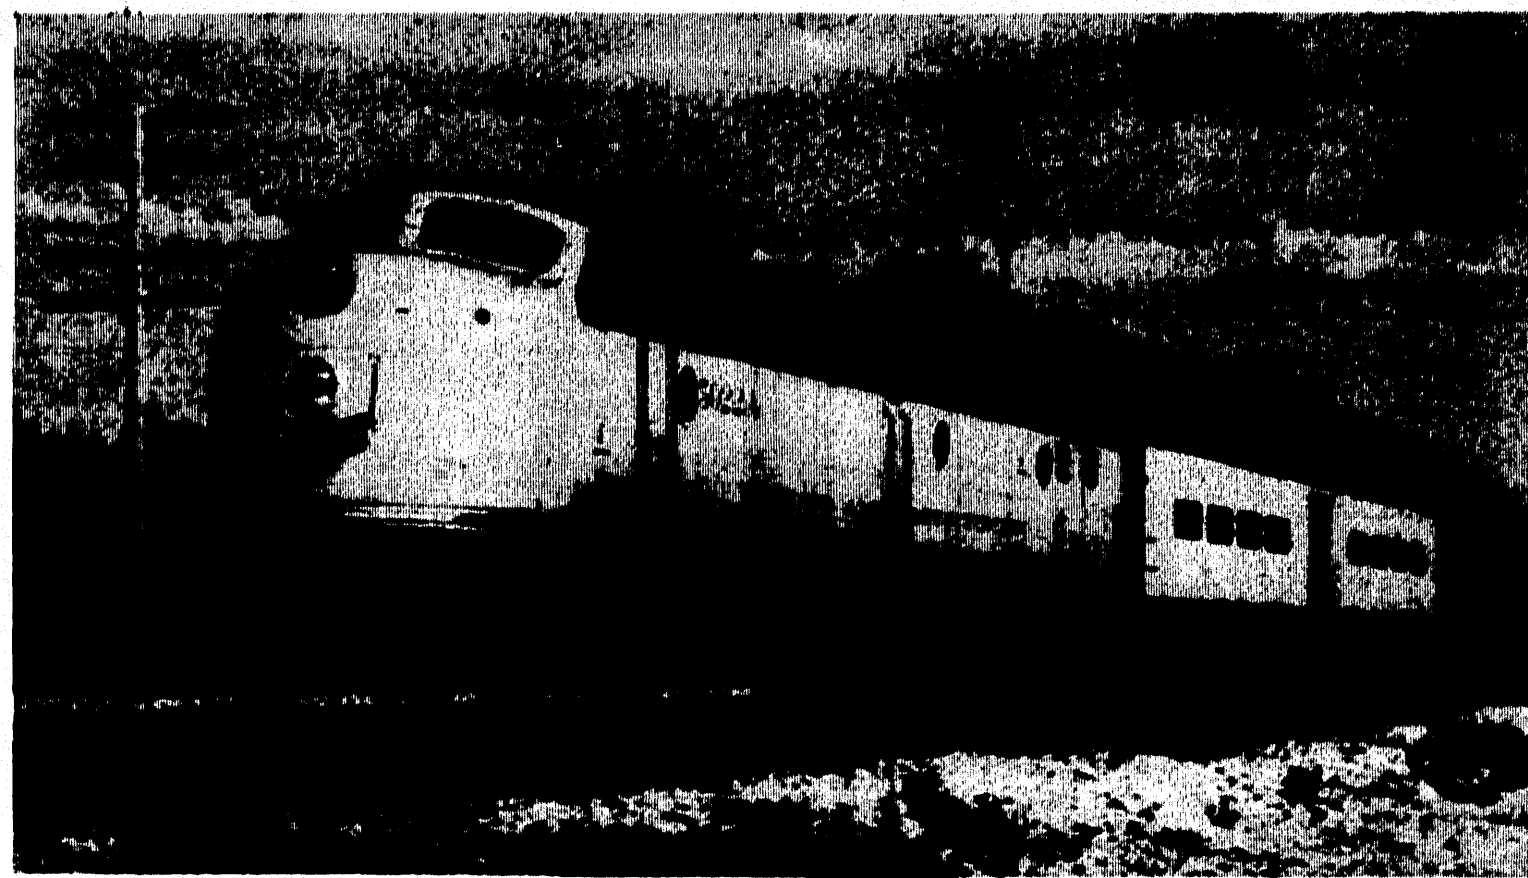

The Senate earlier approved those changes and voted immediate effect for the bill as Milliken watched from the chamber's gallery.

In its final form the school aid bill, without mention of the long-controversial per capita matter, is some $4.13 million more than Milliken's budget called for.

It is also $1.3 million more than a previous House-Senate conference committee agreed upon.

Principal cause of the last-minute increase was the committee's restoration of $1.24 million for six Wayne County school districts which are to absorb the dissolved Nankin Mills and Sumpter districts.

Education analysts said later tax collections from the two disappearing districts might cut the cost of their reorganization by $100,000.

THE LONE-CAR passenger train the Chicago & North Western Railway Co. has been operating between Green Bay, Wis., and Ishpeming through Escanaba will be replaced by Greyhound bus service this summer if a C&NW proposal to abandon rail passenger service is approved. The Peninsula "400" has lost in excess of $250,000 in each of the past two years, the railroad says.

Replace '400' With Bus From Green Bay

After nearly a century of service, the Chicago & North Western Railway Co. announced today it plans to end passenger train service to Escanaba and the Upper Peninsula.

The railroad said it will petition the Interstate Commerce Commission Friday to stop running its Peninsula "400" at Green Bay, Wis., serving its northern Wisconsin and Upper Peninsula stops with a new Greyhound bus service.

Direct operating losses in excess of $250,000 and a steady decline in passengers in each of the past two years on the route were cited as the reasons.

The railroad proposal to the ICC lists July 16 as the date to implement the change, but anticipated protests by communities affected and subsequent hearings by the ICC could delay the shutdown.

Last In U.P.

Elimination of the Green Bay to Ishpeming segment of the Chicago to Ishpeming train would leave the Upper Peninsula without any regularly scheduled passenger train service. The C&NW is running its Flambeau "400" from Green Bay to Ashland, Wis., with a stop at Ironwood this summer, but serves that area for nine months with bus service.

The Milwaukee Road discontinued its service north of Green Bay to Iron Mountain and Houghton March 8, 1968.

"Our trains between Green Bay and Ishpeming currently consist of only an engine and a single bi-level coach," said H. A. Lensek of Chicago, director of commuter and passenger services for the C&NW. "Direct, out-of-pocket losses on this route exceeded $250,000 last year."

"The average peak number of passengers on the northbound train out of Green Bay has dropped from 48 during 1967, to 39 in 1968, and to an average of 28 during the first quarter of 1969," he continued.

Riders Decline
"Southbound, the average ridership into Green Bay dropped from 46 to 37 to 29 during the same periods. Passengers going into and out of Escanaba during the first three months averaged only 11 per day."

From Jan. 1 to March 31, reports by the railroad indicate that average daily revenue on the Green Bay-Ishpeming run was $182, compared with average daily expenses of $685. Net loss for the run for the period was reported at $63,203. A loss of $259,816 was noted in 1968 after a loss of $255,570 in 1967.

Passengers at all points north of Green Bay dwindled from 1967 to 1968 and declined further during the first three months of 1969, except for a slight increase at Powers.

At Escanaba, average daily passengers boarding dropped from 9.82 in 1967, to 7.7 in 1968, to 6.87 in the first three months of 1969.

Only Alternative
The single-car trains now running between Green Bay and Ishpeming actually comprise the northern section of the North Western's Chicago - Ishpeming service.

"We are hoping," said Lensek, "that the combined rail-bus service will be successful. It is really our only alternative to discontinuing the Chicago-Ishpeming service altogether. We have been losing substantial amounts of money for years on the runs of these two trains. Our direct, out-of-pocket loss between Chicago and Ishpeming amounted to more than $406,000 last year alone."

"Most of that loss is being incurred north of Green Bay where rider usage is light and we can see no prospect of increased rail rider volume."

"We are going to do everything we can to make the combined service as attractive to our passengers as possible," said Lensek. "The buses will be the most modern available, offering comfortable seating, air conditioning and lavatory facilities. There will be a convenient across-the-platform transfer for passengers at our Green Bay station and a single ticket, honored on both the bus and the train, will be provided any rider to and from points south of Green Bay. A new, more convenient schedule is being arranged too."

Schedule Listed
The train now running from Green Bay to Ishpeming is an extension of train No. 209 which leaves Chicago at 4:12 p. m. daily, arriving in Green Bay at 11:30 a. m.

Educators Gather On Capitol Hill

Campus Bill Meets Conflict

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Nixon administration's top education officials have been summoned to Capitol Hill to clear up what some congressmen say are conflicting statements on a bill dealing with campus unrest.

Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Robert H. Finch and James E. Allen, the commissioner of education, were called into the private meeting today by Republican members of the House Education and Labor Committee in order to outline their views on the legislation.

The GOP members are supporting a bill that would require colleges to file plans for dealing with campus disturbances with the government or face a cutoff of all federal education funds.

Another provision of the bill would broaden an existing law cutting off aid to students involved in serious uprisings by including students receiving veterans education benefits and social security payments.

Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., chief sponsor of the bill, told the committee that Finch informed her he would not oppose the bill, although in an earlier appearance before her subcommittee he had said no new federal laws were needed to deal with student unrest.

But Rep. Ogden R. Reid, R-N.Y., the only GOP member of the committee against the bill, said Finch had expressed strong opposition in several private conversations with him.

Rep. Albert H. Quie, R-Minn., said after talking to Finch he was unsure where the secretary stood. "That's what we want to find out," he said.

Allen has been quoted in newspaper reports as saying the bill would be impossible to administer and would amount to federal intrusion in the internal affairs of a university.

"That's hard to understand," said Quie, "because when Dr. Allen was the New York state superintendent of schools he helped draft a bill that required the filing of similar plans by state institutions."

House leaders are anxious to get a bill passed before the education appropriations bill is brought up in a few weeks. They fear without specific legislation dealing with student violence harsher and less carefully considered measures may be added to the appropriations bill.

Cut Hair Before Fingerprinting

PONTIAC (AP)—Crime does not pay, John Sinclair learned again. It cost him his hair.

The once shaggy-haired member of an Ann Arbor rock band called the MC-5 began to serve a 30-day sentence in Oakland County Jail for assaulting a police officer. Before doing anything else, most of his three-year-old growth of hair was cut off by order of sheriff's deputies.

"They even did it before fingerprinting, photographing and booking," Sinclair complained Wednesday. "They dragged me into a room and held my arms behind my back while an inmate cut it."

"It's like cutting someone's arm off," he said later.

Sinclair was released within six hours on a $2,500 appeal bond, Tuesday but then it was too late. All that remained was his mustache. The long, corkscrew curls on his head were gone. He is minister of information for the pro-black militant group called the White Panthers.

Oakland County Under Sheriff Leo Hazen insists Sinclair got the same treatment given to every prisoner, but Sinclair didn't seem to find much solace in that. "It looks awful," he moaned. "It makes me look like a pig (policeman)."

He declined to pose for pictures.

Raucous Debate

Senate In Standstill On Abortion Reform

LANSING (AP)—The emotion-charged issue of abortion law reform brought the Michigan Senate to an unprecedented 36-minute standstill late Wednesday night after hours of raucous debate.

"This is a disgrace," charged the sponsor of one reform proposal, and stalked from the chamber.

Sensors stared at each other, talked of ejecting one colleague and taking over the gavel from Senate President Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, as leaders tried to figure out what to do next.

The Senate adjourned at 12:01 a.m. and planned to reconvene at 2 p.m.

Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, sponsor of the abortion reform proposal under debate, said he did not expect to have the necessary 20 votes for his bill when the upper chamber reconvened.

The bill would authorize abortions in cases of rape or incest, when there was significant risk that the mother's physical or mental health were in danger, or there was equal risk the child would be "seriously" deformed.

Sen. John McCauley, D-Wyandotte, who walked out of the Senate session, had earlier moved a second proposal back to committee where it could remain in line for consideration later in the year.

McCauley's bill would remove criminal penalties against licensed and accredited physicians who performed abortions in licensed and accredited hospitals.

A confrontation between Schweigert and Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, provoked the standstill.

Brown refused to take his seat after Schweigert ruled the

Body Found In Auto Wreckage

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Gerald Lee Thomas, 18, of Traverse City, was dead on arrival at a Soo hospital today after a passing driver found him lying in the wreckage of his car.

Police said Thomas and a companion, Steven Lightfoot, 18, of Sault Ste. Marie, were discovered several hours after their car left M 26 in Chippewa County and went over an embankment. Lightfoot was treated for minor injuries.

Demo Dinners To Weld Unity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Embattled Democrats, trying desperately to piece together the cross-purposes puzzle of party unity, expect to pick up $1.5 million in 1970 campaign funds in the process.

But two fund raising dinners, one in New York tonight and another here June 26, seem likely to find former President Lyndon B. Johnson among the absentees. Johnson, whose Vietnam policies contributed to fragmenting the party, has made his political retirement stick so far.

As a mark of their efforts to get the Democrats to speak to—and not at—each other, former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, will be the featured speakers in New York. Humphrey, the 1968 presidential nominee; Muskie, his vice presidential running mate, and Kennedy can be expected to ignore their potential rivalry for top place on the 1972 ticket.

Weather

ESCANABA AND VICINITY—Occasional showers and possible thundershowers today. Turning cooler this afternoon, high around 60. Variable cloudiness and much cooler with chance of showers at times tonight and Friday. Low tonight in lower 40s. High Friday in lower 50s. Saturday little change. The highest temperature yesterday was 60 and the overnight low was 50. Variable winds under 12 mph becoming northerly 10 to 15 mph this afternoon and diminishing to northeasterly 5 to 15 mph tonight. Precipitation probabilities: today, 60%; tonight, 40%; Friday, 30%. Rainfall in the past 24 hours amounted to .63 of an inch. Sun sets today at 8:38 p.m. and rises tomorrow at 4:56 a.m.

Labor Giant, John L. Lewis, Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis put a spark of light in the coal black future of thousands of miners in the soot-grim company towns and backwoods hollows.

In his time, the unsmiling, bushy-haired labor giant with the leonine head and shoulders like feed sacks, was called a dictator. He was accused of stopping a nation in its tracks. He said, "the nation's coal is stained with blood."

Now John Llewellyn Lewis is dead. He died Wednesday night at Doctors Hospital where he was admitted Sunday night suffering from internal bleeding. He was 88.

Wrote History

His last words to a reporter—five years ago—were "Organize" the same language he used in leading the United Mine Workers Union and founding the CIO.

John L. Lewis

injured drag the dead after them... trailing their bowels.

"I would have the concourse flanked by five weeping members of each man's family, six and a quarter-million people, weeping and lamenting."

Harry Bridges, another labor figure and boss of the longshoremen's union, said about Lewis: "He wrote history in words, deeds and action. I've never seen his equal yet, and I don't expect to live long enough to do so."

Lewis could be mean. As a youth in the mines he was kicked by a mule. He brained the mule with a "sprang," the wooden break lever of a coal car. In 1935 he decked an AFL leader at a union convention with one punch.

But the leader of the United Mine Workers for 40 years and moving force in the drive to organize the nation's unskilled workers could also be eloquent and ironic.

In 1949 he told a Senate committee on mine safety that 1,259,081 miners had been killed in the mines since 1930. To turn this home, he said:

March Dead
"If I had the powers of a Merlin, I would march that million and a quarter men past the Congress of the United States—the quick and the dead."

"I would have the ambulatory

lano Roosevelt refused to support his bid to organize steel workers, Lewis scowled mightily. "It ill behooves anyone who has supped at labor's table and who has been sheltered in labor's house to curse with equal fervor... both labor and its adversaries when they become locked in deadly embrace."

He fused scores of scattered, ineffective miners locals around the nation into a 400,000-member phalanx under his leadership and dealt with miners woes and hopes on an industrywide basis.

"I Work For Them"
This led to their first pensions, their own hospitals, quipped wages, and underground travel pay the length of a mine corridor. He once said of his miners, "I am their agent. They pay my salary. They keep me in good clothes. They buy me cigars. I work for them. I expect to continue."

But Lewis moved for power throughout labor, forming the Congress of Industrial Organizations in 1935 and clashing directly with the craft-oriented AFL. When the AFL thought in terms of craft union of skilled workers like carpenters and plumbers, Lewis was out to organize every worker in the auto, steel, textile, glass and rubber industries into one giant central labor movement.

Yet he resigned from his own creation, the CIO, when the organization went against his wishes and endorsed the thirteenth bid by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

War Strike
In the face of charges that he was violating national security, Lewis pulled his miners out of

Reaction Mixed To C&NW Plans For Escanaba

Reaction to the Chicago & North Western Railway proposal to eliminate passenger train service north of Green Bay and replace it with a new Greyhound bus service was mixed today in Escanaba.

Donald Brandt, president of the Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce, said he would "hate to see the train discontinued" but that he is "sympathetic" to the economic problems faced by the railroad.

Frank Stupak, of Gladstone, chairman of the Delta County Board of Supervisors, said there "might be an improvement" in passenger service with the change. He pointed out that the proposed bus schedules will provide better departure and arrival times for area residents.

There was no immediate indication whether the Board of Supervisors or the City Council of Escanaba would take action to oppose the C&NW plan.

Escanaba City Manager George Harvey said that he would study the proposal and supporting data supplied by the railroad and would "bring it to Council" in the near future.

Cecil Chase, mayor of Escanaba, said the Council certainly would "check" into the proposal, but that as long as the railroad plans to provide a substitute service the train discontinuance "may not be so bad."

Predict Soviet Missile Push

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon predicts the Soviet Union will pour more than $12 billion into its growing force of missile-busting SSB rockets by 1975.

This figure is based on the latest national intelligence estimate which, according to U.S. defense leaders, projects that the Soviets will have 450 SSBs by the mid-1970s, with 250 now operational or under construction.

The Defense Department prices the SSB, a multimegaton missile, at $30 million each. The smaller U.S. Air Force Minuteman ICBMs range from $7 million to $10 million.

Pentagon officials point to the SSB's big expense as illustrating the Soviet Union's determination to field a missile powerful enough to knock out the Minuteman silos in this country.

They also note that the $12 billion is around $1 billion more than the United States currently expects to spend on the largest planned version of the Safeguard antiballistic missile defense.

Safeguard, designed to shield a portion of the Minuteman force from Soviet attack, will cost $10.8 billion if the Nixon administration decides to deploy ABM batteries throughout the United States.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, in May 22 testimony to Congress, released Tuesday night, declared that if the United States does not deploy Safeguard against the SSB "the survivability of our Minuteman force as presently deployed would be virtually nil by the mid-to-late 1970s."

Cut Hair Before Fingerprinting

PONTIAC (AP) — Crime does not pay. John Sinclair learned again. It cost him his hair.

The once shaggy-haired member of an Ann Arbor rock band called the MC-5 began to serve a 30-day sentence in Oakland County Jail for assaulting a police officer. Before doing anything else, most of his three-year-old growth of hair was cut off by order of sheriff's deputies.

"They even did it before fingerprinting, photographing and booking," Sinclair complained Wednesday. "They dragged me into a room and held my arms behind my back while an inmate cut it."

"It's like cutting someone's arm off," he said later.

Sinclair was released within six hours on a $2,500 appeal bond, Tuesday but by then it was too late. All that remained was his mustache. The long, corkscrew curls on his head were gone. He is minister of information for the pro-black militant group called the White Panthers.

Oakland County Under Sheriff Leo Hazen insists Sinclair got the same treatment given to every prisoner, but Sinclair didn't seem to find much solace in that. "It looks awful," he moaned. "It makes me look like a pig (policeman)."

He declined to pose for pictures.

Raucus Debate

Senate In Standstill On Abortion Reform

LANSING (AP) — The emotion-charged issue of abortion law reform brought the Michigan Senate to an unprecedented 36-minute standstill late Wednesday night after hours of raucous debate.

"This is a disgrace," charged the sponsor of one reform proposal, and stalked from the chamber.

Sensors stared at each other, talked of ejecting one colleague and taking over the gavel from Senate President Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, as leaders tried to figure out what to do next.

The Senate adjourned at 12:01 a.m. and planned to reconvene at 2 p.m.

Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, sponsor of the abortion reform proposal under debate, said he did not expect to have the necessary 20 votes for his bill when the upper chamber reconvened.

The bill would authorize abortions in cases of rape or incest, when there was significant risk that the mother's physical or mental health were in danger, or there was equal risk the child would be "seriously" deformed.

Sen. John McCauley, D-Wyandotte, who walked out of the Senate session, had earlier moved a second proposal back to committee where it could remain in line for consideration later in the year.

McCauley's bill would remove criminal penalties against licensed and accredited physicians who performed abortions in licensed and accredited hospitals.

A confrontation between Schweigert and Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, provoked the standstill.

Brown refused to take his seat after Schweigert ruled the

Body Found In Auto Wreckage

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Gerald Lee Thomas, 18, of Traverse City, was dead on arrival at a Soo hospital today after a passing driver found him lying in the wreckage of his car.

Police said Thomas and a companion, Steven Lightfoot, 18, of Sault Ste. Marie, were discovered several hours after their car left M 28 in Chippewa County and went over an embankment. Lightfoot was treated for minor injuries.

Labor Giant, John L. Lewis, Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — John L. Lewis put a spark of light in the coal black future of thousands of miners in the soot-grim company towns and backwoods hollows.

In his time, the unsmiling, bushy-haired labor giant with the leonine head and shoulders like feed sacks, was called a dictator. He was accused of stopping a nation in its tracks. He said, "the nation's coal is stained with blood."

Now John Llewellyn Lewis is dead. He died Wednesday night at Doctors Hospital where he was admitted Sunday night suffering from internal bleeding. He was 89.

Wrote History

His last words to a reporter—five years ago—was "Organize" the same language he used in leading the United Mine Workers Union and founding the CIO.

Today's Chuckle

We owe so much to the garden spade. It gives a husband one place where he can put his foot down.

Harry Bridges, another labor figure and boss of the longshoreman's union, said about Lewis: "He wrote history in words, deeds and action. I've never seen his equal yet, and I don't expect to live long enough to do so."

Lewis could be mean. As a youth in the mines he was kicked by a mule. He brained the mule with a "sprang," the wooden break lever of a coal car. In 1935 he decked an AFL leader at a union convention with one punch.

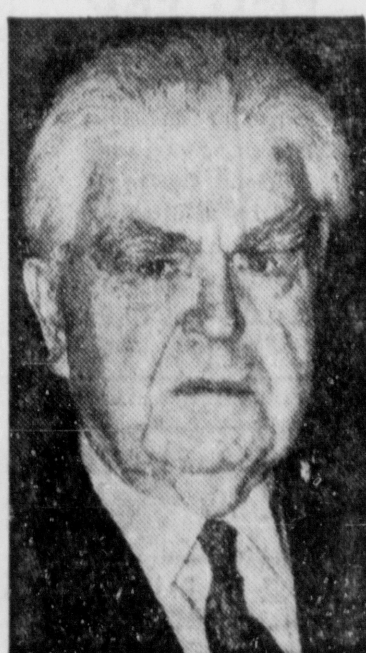

But the leader of the United Mine Workers for 40 years and moving force in the drive to organize the nation's unskilled workers could also be eloquent and ironic.

In 1949 he told a Senate committee on mine safety that 1,259,081 miners had been killed in the mines since 1930. To ram this home, he said:

March Dead

"If I had the powers of a Merlin, I would march that million and a quarter men past the Congress of the United States—the quick and the dead."

"I would have the ambulatory

injured drag the dead after them... trading their bowels.

"I would have the concourse flanked by five weeping members of each man's family, six and a quarter-million people, wailing and lamenting."

When President Franklin De-

lano Roosevelt refused to support his bid to organize steel workers, Lewis scowled mightily. "It ill behooves anyone who has supped at labor's table and who has been sheltered in labor's house to curse with equal fervor... both labor and its adversaries when they become locked in deadly embrace."

Lewis' contributions to labor were two-fold.

He fused scores of scattered, ineffective miners locals around the nation into a 400,000-member phalanx under his leadership and dealt with miners woes and hopes on an industrywide basis.

"I Work For Them"

This led to their first pensions, their own hospitals, quinquennial wages, and underground travel pay the length of a mine corridor. He once said of his miners, "I am their agent. They pay my salary. They keep me in good clothes. They buy me cigars. I work for them. I expect to continue."

But Lewis moved for power "throughout labor, forming the Congress of Industrial Organizations in 1935 and clashing directly with the craft-oriented AFL.

When the AFL thought in terms of craft union of skilled workers like carpenters and plumbers, Lewis was out to organize every worker in the auto, steel, textile, glass and rubber industries into one giant central labor movement.

Yet he resigned from his own creation, the CIO, when the organization went against his wishes and endorsed the third-term bid by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

War Strike

In the face of charges that he was violating national security, Lewis pulled his miners out of

Reaction Mixed To C&NW Plans For Escanaba

Reaction to the Chicago & North Western Railway proposal to eliminate passenger train service north of Green Bay and replace it with a new Greyhound bus service was mixed today in Escanaba.

Donald Brandt, president of the Escanaba Area Chamber of Commerce, said he would "hate to see the train discontinued" but that he is "sympathetic" to the economic problems faced by the railroad.

Frank Stupak, of Gladstone, chairman of the Delta County Board of Supervisors, said there "might be an improvement" in passenger service with the change. He pointed out that the proposed bus schedules will provide better departure and arrival times for area residents.

There was no immediate indication whether the Board of Supervisors or the City Council of Escanaba would take action to oppose the C&NW plan.

Escanaba City Manager George Harvey said that he would study the proposal and supporting data supplied by the railroad and would "bring it to Council" in the near future.

Cecil Chase, mayor of Escanaba, said the Council certainly would "check" into the proposal, but that as long as the railroad plans to provide a substitute service the train discontinuance "may not be so bad."

Predict Soviet Missile Push

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon predicts the Soviet Union will pour more than $12 billion into its growing force of missile-busting SS9 rockets by 1975.

This figure is based on the latest national intelligence estimate which, according to U.S. defense leaders, projects that the Soviets will have 420 SS9s by the mid-1970s, with 230 now operational or under construction.

The Defense Department prices the SS9, a multistage missile, at $30 million each. The smaller U.S. Air Force Minuteman ICBMs range from $7 million to $10 million.

Pentagon officials point to the SS9's big expense as illustrating the Soviet Union's determination to field a missile powerful enough to knock out the Minuteman silos in this country.

They also note that the $12 billion is around $1 billion more than the United States currently expects to spend on the largest planned version of the Safeguard antiballistic missile defense.

Safeguard, designed to shield a portion of the Minuteman force from Soviet attack, will cost $10.8 billion if the Nixon administration decides to deploy ABM batteries throughout the United States.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, in May 22 testimony to Congress released Tuesday night, declared that if the United States does not deploy Safeguard against the SS9 "the survivability of our Minuteman force as presently deployed would be virtually nil by the mid-to-late 1970s."

Violent Storms Rake Midwest

By The Associated Press
Violent storms delivered heavy rains, high winds and isolated tornadoes to an area from Oklahoma to Wisconsin today, while a winter snowstorm blanketed western Montana.

The storms boiled up along a cool front clashing with warm, humid air covering southern and eastern states.

The storm in Montana dropped 4 inches of snow at Great Falls and downed power lines. The snowfall and an overnight low of 32 degrees set records for this date. Cut Bank, Mont., reported 3 inches of snow.

Tornadoes dipped into parts of Kansas, Oklahoma and Wisconsin Wednesday night and this morning.

A twister struck an airport near Monroe, Wis., demolishing a hangar and damaging aircraft.

Winds estimated at 75 miles an hour disrupted electrical power at Grayling in northern Lower Michigan.

A severe storm struck the central Iowa town of Gilman and caused extensive damage in falling trees and power lines. One man was reported injured when a tree fell on his house.

The Mount Pleasant area in central Lower Michigan was hit by a heavy thunderstorm late Wednesday, resulting in a five-hour partial power failure and severe wind damage. Police said a large number of trees were down and at least two buildings were damaged by the high winds. A small fire started when a 220-volt wire fell on a house, but it was put out quickly.

A severe thunderstorm warning was issued for the area about 8 p.m. and a tornado which was issued for all of central Lower Michigan. Only Mount Pleasant reported damage.

U. S. BIG IN ALASKA
JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—The federal government represents a greater percentage of employment and income in Alaska than in any other state.

This is understandable in view of the fact that about 97 per cent of the land in Alaska is government-owned.

Two persons received minor injuries in a traffic accident that occurred this morning at the intersection of 1st Ave. S. and 15th St.

Cars driven by John Creil, 45, of 2112 24th Ave. S., Escanaba, and Pearl Mathieson, 39, of Rte. 1, Escanaba, collided at the intersection. Creil and his daughter, Cheryl, received minor injuries during the collision. They were treated at St. Francis Hospital and released, police reported.

City police issued a summons to Mrs. Mathieson for failing to yield the right of way.

Young Librarian Found Dead
MUSKEGON (AP)—Paul W. Kelly, 44-year-old librarian at Muskegon Community College, was found dead Wednesday in Four Mile Creek which flows across the campus.

Kelly, had been reported missing since 10:30 a.m. Tuesday. He was a diabetic and might have suffered a seizure. Authorities said there were no immediate signs of foul play and an autopsy was ordered to fix the cause of death.

Cotton was dubbed "qutun" by the Arabs.

Television Tower Ground Breaking Scheduled Friday

Ground breaking ceremonies to mark the beginning of construction on the tower and transmitter building for WFRV-TV's new satellite station to serve Escanaba and the central Upper Peninsula will be held Friday.

Vice President and General Manager Robert O. Southard of Green Bay said the public ceremony will be held at 2:30 p.m., on the site of the new facility, 4.3 miles south of Trenary and 1.5 miles east of U. S. 41 on Delta County Rd. 444.

"We will post direction signs along U. S. 41 and the county road," Southard said.

Southard said it is hoped the new station (Channel 3) will be on the air in late summer or early fall. The station will offer off-the-air programming to more than 50,000 homes in the Upper Peninsula, he said.

Programming will be the same as carried by the parent station, WFRV-TV, Green Bay. A golden spade will be used to commemorate the symbolic start of construction.

Taking a turn with the spade, Southard added, will be Ralph Jackson, president of WFRV-TV. Jackson is executive vice president and general manager of WAVE, Inc., the parent company of WFRV-TV, which owns and operates WAVE AM-TV in Louisville, Ky., WFIE-TV in Evansville, Ind., and WMT AM-FM-TV, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Other dignitaries scheduled to take a turn at the shovel include Escanaba Mayor Cecil Chase, Don Brandt, president, Escanaba Chamber of Commerce; Frank Stupak, chairman, Delta County Board of Supervisors, and Southard.

Jackson will be accompanied to Escanaba by Southard; Harry Riegert, program director; Harry Hill, chief engineer; Jim Oetken, sales manager; Robert DeBonville, local sales manager, and Charles Leonard, news director.

Officers of the Escanaba Police Department are investigating complaints of thefts in the city recently. Mrs. Joseph LaFave of 1215 2nd Ave. S. told police someone had stolen an all-white statue of the Virgin Mary from her yard; and the Gamble Store management reported the theft of two bicycles from in front of the store.

Replace '400' From Green Bay With Greyhound

Bay at 9:25 p. m., and Ishpeming at 2:15 a. m.

The new schedule calls for the bus to meet northbound train No. 153 which leaves Chicago at 11:20 a. m., arriving in Green Bay at 4:15 p. m., daily. Passengers on No. 153 will board the bus across the platform and arrive at Escanaba at 6:50 p. m., and Ishpeming at 8:50 p. m.

Southbound, the bus will leave Ishpeming at 12:05 p. m., arriving in Escanaba at 1:50 p. m., and at Green Bay at 4:15 p. m., connecting directly with train No. 216. It leaves Green Bay at 4:40 p. m., arriving in Chicago at 9:30 p. m. In comparison, the southbound train now leaves Ishpeming at 3:30 a. m., arriving in Green Bay at 8 a. m., and Chicago at 12:35 p. m.

The new bus service will be offered on an experimental basis through a one-year arrangement with Greyhound Lines, Inc. The arrangement will be extended from year to year depending upon the success of the service. Greyhound will provide the equipment and drivers. The new service will be in addition to the two daily round-trip bus schedules already operated by Greyhound between Ishpeming, Green Bay, and points south to Chicago.

Rock, Little Lake Out
Connecting with the North Western trains at Green Bay, the new bus service will serve all the communities now served by rail with the exception of Rock and Little Lake. Four communities, Gladstone, Rapid River, Marquette and Negaunee will be added to the service. The buses will stop at Greyhound terminals in communities north of Green Bay.

Greyhound bus fares will apply to the service between Green Bay and Ishpeming. Existing rail fares will apply to or from Green Bay to cities south to Chicago.

The C&NW built tracks north to Escanaba in 1872 and began passenger service shortly afterward with trains running through to Negaunee.

Since January 1961, however, when the C&NW discontinued two night trains operating between Ishpeming and Green Bay, the area's long passenger service has come from the Peninsula "400." As many as 12 or more through or local trains were scheduled daily in both directions out of Escanaba before World War I.

Railroad officials last year at the time of the discontinuance of the Green Bay to Ashland run indicated that the company was "taking a hard look" at the Green Bay to Ishpeming train.

Patronage To Be Discussed
LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley and Secretary of State James Hare are expected to testify before a House committee next week on state patronage jobs.

Kelley and Hare, heads of the state's two major departments and responsible for appointing hundreds of public administrators and license plate branch managers, are expected to testify on a resolution proposed by Rep. Dale Kildee, D-Flint, calling for an investigation and possible elimination of patronage appointments.

House Policy Committee Chairman Alfred R. Horrigan, D-Flint, said the meeting with Hare and Kelley was postponed because of the lower chamber's daylong sessions this week.

Kildee has declined to comment on his resolution, but fellow legislators say strong Democratic Party pressure has been marshalled against the investigation.

Sources said Kildee has been warned a well-financed opponent will run against him next year if he persists in his proposal.

Violent Storms Rake Midwest

By The Associated Press
Violent storms delivered heavy rains, high winds and isolated tornadoes to an area from Oklahoma to Wisconsin today, while a winter snowstorm blanketed western Montana.

The storms boiled up along a cool front clashing with warm, humid air covering southern and eastern states.

The storm in Montana dropped 4 inches of snow at Great Falls and downed power lines. The snowfall and an overnight low of 32 degrees set records for this date. Cut Bank, Mont., reported 3 inches of snow.

Tornadoes dipped into parts of Kansas, Oklahoma and Wisconsin Wednesday night and this morning.

A twister struck an airport near Monroe, Wis., demolishing a hangar and damaging aircraft.

Winds estimated at 75 miles an hour disrupted electrical power at Grayling in northern Lower Michigan.

A severe storm struck the central Iowa town of Gilman and caused extensive damage in falling trees and power lines. One man was reported injured when a tree fell on his house.

The Mount Pleasant area in central Lower Michigan was hit by a heavy thunderstorm late Wednesday, resulting in a five-hour partial power failure and severe wind damage. Police said a large number of trees were down and at least two buildings were damaged by the high winds. A small fire started when a 220-volt wire fell on a house, but it was put out quickly.

A severe thunderstorm warning was issued for the area about 8 p.m. and a tornado which was issued for all of central Lower Michigan. Only Mount Pleasant reported damage.

U. S. BIG IN ALASKA
JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—The federal government represents a greater percentage of employment and income in Alaska than in any other state.

This is understandable in view of the fact that about 97 per cent of the land in Alaska is government-owned.

Two persons received minor injuries in a traffic accident that occurred this morning at the intersection of 1st Ave. S. and 15th St.

Cars driven by John Creil, 45, of 2112 24th Ave. S., Escanaba, and Pearl Mathieson, 39, of Rte. 1, Escanaba, collided at the intersection. Creil and his daughter, Cheryl, received minor injuries during the collision. They were treated at St. Francis Hospital and released, police reported.

City police issued a summons to Mrs. Mathieson for failing to yield the right of way.

Television Tower Ground Breaking Scheduled Friday

Ground breaking ceremonies to mark the beginning of construction on the tower and transmitter building for WFRV-TV's new satellite station to serve Escanaba and the central Upper Peninsula will be held Friday.

Vice President and General Manager Robert O. Southard of Green Bay said the public ceremony will be held at 2:30 p. m., on the site of the new facility, 4.3 miles south of Trenary and 1.5 miles east of U. S. 41 on Delta County Rd. 444.

"We will post direction signs along U. S. 41 and the county road," Southard said.

Southard said it is hoped the new station (Channel 3) will be on the air in late summer or early fall. The station will offer off-the-air programming to more than 50,000 homes in the Upper Peninsula, he said.

Programming will be the same as carried by the parent station, WFRV-TV, Green Bay. A golden spade will be used to commemorate the symbolic start of construction.

Taking a turn with the spade, Southard added, will be Ralph Jackson, president of WFRV-TV. Jackson is executive vice president and general manager of WAVE, Inc., the parent company of WFRV-TV, which owns and operates WAVE AM-TV in Louisville, Ky., WPIE-TV in Evansville, Ind., and WMT AM FM-TV, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Other dignitaries scheduled to take a turn at the shovel include Escanaba Mayor Cecil Chase, Don Brandt, president, Escanaba Chamber of Commerce; Frank Stupak, chairman, Delta County Board of Supervisors, and Southard.

Jackson will be accompanied to Escanaba by Southard; Harry Riegert, program director; Harry Hill, chief engineer; Jim Oetken, sales manager; Robert DeBonville, local sales manager, and Charles Leonard, news director.

There will be an immunization clinic from 2 to 4 p. m., Friday at the Delta County Building.

Replace '400' From Green Bay With Greyhound

Bay at 9:25 p. m., and Ishpeming at 2:15 a. m.

The new schedule calls for the bus to meet northbound train No. 153 which leaves Chicago at 11:20 a. m., arriving in Green Bay at 4:15 p. m., daily. Passengers on No. 153 will board the bus across the platform and arrive at Escanaba at 6:50 p. m., and Ishpeming at 8:50 p. m.

Southbound, the bus will leave Ishpeming at 12:05 p. m., arriving in Escanaba at 1:50 p. m., and at Green Bay at 4:15 p. m., connecting directly with train No. 216. It leaves Green Bay at 4:40 p. m., arriving in Chicago at 9:30 p. m. In comparison, the southbound train now leaves Ishpeming at 3:30 a. m., arriving in Green Bay at 8 a. m., and Chicago at 12:35 p. m.

The new bus service will be offered on an experimental basis through a one-year arrangement with Greyhound Lines, Inc. The arrangement will be extended from year to year depending upon the success of the service. Greyhound will provide the equipment and drivers. The new service will be in addition to the two daily round-trip bus schedules already operated by Greyhound between Ishpeming, Green Bay, and points south to Chicago.

Rock, Little Lake Out
Connecting with the North Western trains at Green Bay, the new bus service will serve all the communities now served by rail with the exception of Rock and Little Lake. Four communities, Gladstone, Rapid River, Marquette and Negaunee will be added to the service. The buses will stop at Greyhound terminals in communities north of Green Bay.

Greyhound bus fares will apply to the service between Green Bay and Ishpeming. Existing rail fares will apply to or from Green Bay to cities south to Chicago.

The C&NW built tracks north to Escanaba in 1872 and began passenger service shortly afterward with trains running through to Negaunee.

Since January 1961, however, when the C&NW discontinued two night trains operating between Ishpeming and Green Bay, the area's long passenger service has come from the Peninsula "400." As many as 12 or more through or local trains were scheduled daily in both directions out of Escanaba before World War I.

Railroad officials last year at the time of the discontinuance of the Green Bay to Ashland run indicated that the company was "taking a hard look" at the Green Bay to Ishpeming train.

Patronage To Be Discussed

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley and Secretary of State James Hare are expected to testify before a House committee next week on state patronage jobs.

Kelley and Hare, heads of the state's two major departments and responsible for appointing hundreds of public administrators and license plate branch managers, are expected to testify on a resolution proposed by Rep. Dale Kildee, D-Flint, calling for an investigation and possible elimination of patronage appointments.

House Policy Committee Chairman Alfred R. Horrigan, D-Flint, said the meeting with Hare and Kelley was postponed because of the lower chamber's daylong sessions this week.

Kildee has declined to comment on his resolution, but fellow legislators say strong Democratic Party pressure has been marshalled against the investigation.

Sources said Kildee has been warned a well-financed opponent will run against him next year if he persists in his proposal.

Pay $143,000 In Train Mishap

DETROIT (AP)—The family of a 17-year-old boy killed in a 1961 train accident was awarded $143,000 in damages, plus $40,000 in accumulated interest, by a Wayne County Circuit Court jury Wednesday.

The youth, Daniel Bagierek, was killed instantly in January, 1961, in an accident involving a train of the Detroit and Toledo Shore Line Railroad Co.

The law goes into effect on July 1, and applies to all persons, firms, and institutions which extend credit.

The program will consist of a film strip and then a detailed discussion for one and one-half hours on the specific application of the Truth in Lending Act to the bankers and the merchants in the audience, followed by a question and answer period, moderated by a banker or an UPCA representative.

The law affects banks, savings and loan associations, department stores, credit card issuers, credit unions, automobile dealers, consumer finance companies such as plumbers and electricians. It also applies to doctors, dentists, and other professional people and hospitals or any individual or organization that extends or arranges credit for which a finance charge is or may be payable or which is repayable in more than four installments.

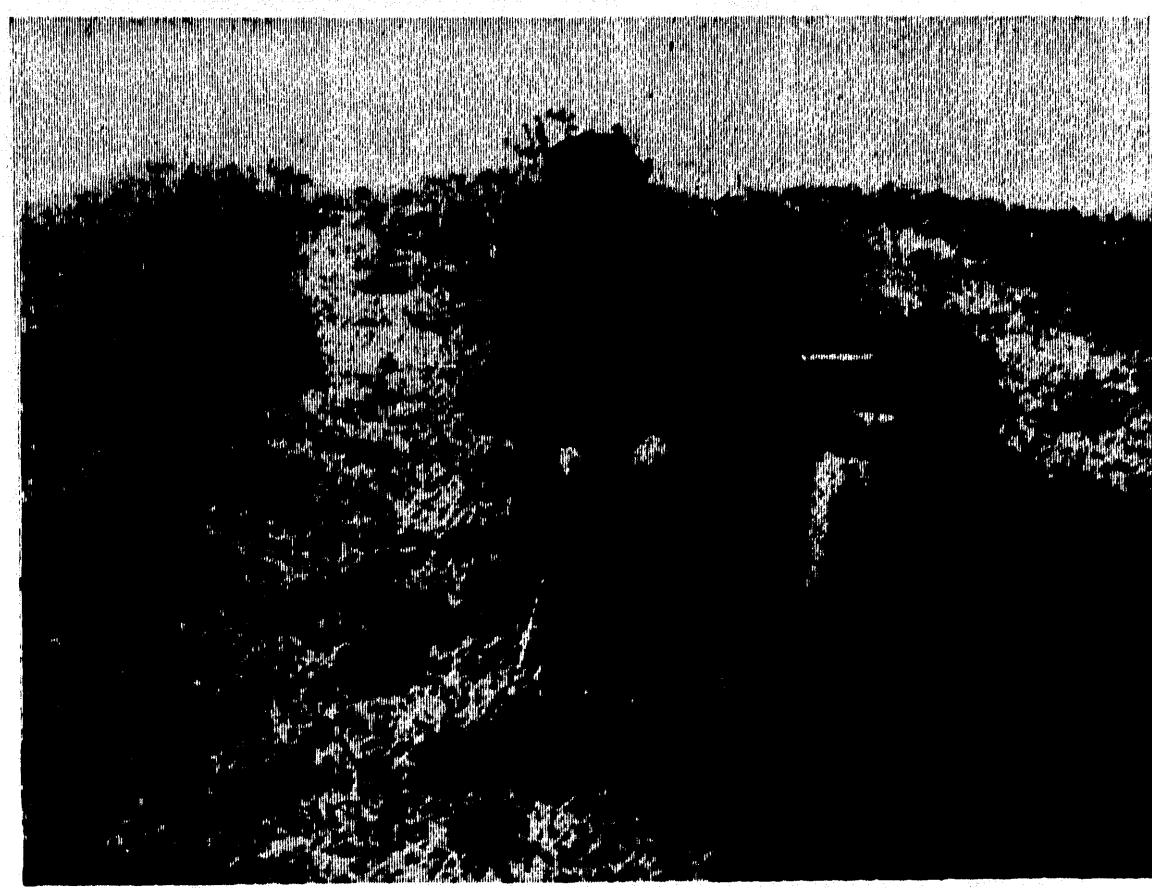

These regulations also affect all types of advertising where credit is concerned. Television, radio, newspapers, magazines, flyers, catalogues, direct mail, literature, window displays, billboards, etc.

This program is being sponsored by UPCA and the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce. All people or firms engaged in the extension of credit are urged to attend as there are penalties for not complying with this regulation.

Joseph Heirman, MSU extension director for Delta County, said tree farmers have had problems in growing trees on land that shouldn't have been cleared for agriculture as the soil has a tendency to grow an abundance of grasses and weeds, choking out trees. ## Officials Seeking Man Seen With U-M Co-ed

ANN ARBOR (AP)—City Police and county sheriff's deputies are seeking to establish the identity of a man last seen with slain University of Michigan co-ed, Alice Kalom, 21.

Miss Kalom was last seen at 2:30 a. m. Sunday when she left the Depot House, a rehearsal hall for rock bands, with a male companion. Her body was found a day and a half later about seven miles north of the city. She had been sexually assaulted, slashed and shot in the head.

Miss Kalom is the sixth young woman brutally murdered in the Ann Arbor - Ypsilanti area in the last 22 months. None of the murders has been solved.

The owner of the Depot House, who identified himself only as "Al," said Miss Kalom had attended a private party at his place Saturday night.

Same Clothing

People who saw her at the party said Wednesday the clothes she was wearing then were the same as those found on or near the body. No one could identify the man she left with.

Police apparently have a description of the man she was seen with, but they told persons they questioned not to talk to the reporters.

Late Wednesday Ann Arbor Police Chief Walter Krasny said his men were "checking out all her acquaintances."

"At this point it doesn't appear that there is anything new," he said. He indicated his department is working closely with Washtenaw County sheriff's deputies in the search for the unknown companion.

Washtenaw County Sheriff Douglas Harvey could not be reached for comment.

Defends School
Ann Arbor Deputy Police Chief Harold Olson said police learned Wednesday Miss Kalom had dinner with a girl friend Saturday night and then went to the Depot House with her. He said police have not learned what she did after she left the party.

Earlier Wednesday, University of Michigan President Robert W. Fleming defended the school's role in protecting its students. Miss Kalom's father, Joseph, had criticized the school sharply after identifying his daughter's body Tuesday.

"We have done all we can think of to protect the school's students," Fleming said. "It's enormously important to us to provide the maximum security for our students. We have done all we can think of, cooperated with the police completely and asked their advice as to what we might do."

"I don't know what you can do to protect people," the U-M head said. "We can't go around taking everyone by the hand wherever they go."

"I don't want her," Kalom said that night, his voice breaking. "I don't want her—not dead. Let the president of the university bury her on his front lawn."

"They have to protect these girls before this becomes an all-boys school with all the girls dead," he said.

Lake Trout Are Released At Ford River

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has planted 100,000 lake trout at the mouth of the Ford River in an effort to re-establish the lake trout in Green Bay.

"This plant is one of many to be made along the northern shore of Lake Michigan by the department," explained Asa Wright, of Marquette, Great Lakes biologist for the Department of Natural Resources.

"We're trying to spread these fish around the lake in order to rebuild a natural fish stock in Lake Michigan," he added.

Wright also told the Daily Press that a plant of 100,000 lake trout was made Wednesday at the mouth of Thompson Creek near Manistique.

"This Thompson plant combined with the Ford River stocking should really help in developing a lake trout fishery from Manistique to Menominee," Wright said.

Cliff Long of Escanaba, Department of Natural Resources biologist, said that he thought the federal stocking would be a big aid in the improvement of sportfishing in the Escanaba area.

"I wish they would have planted further out, but I'm very happy that our area has received such a huge plant," Long said.

The lake trout release at the mouth of the Ford River was the first in the Little Bay de Noc area.

Long also told the Press that 50,000 extra coho salmon have been planted in Haymeadow Creek near the campground.

Recreation Bill Goes To House

LANSING (AP)—Proponents of traditional, fish- and - game conservation projects confronted growing support in the Michigan House today for a Senate-approved plan to divert the major share of a $100 million recreation bond to urban projects.

The House met today at 9:30 a. m.

Gov. William Milliken said he was "gratified" by Senate approval Wednesday of a method for allocating the bond's revenues among state and community recreation projects.

Milliken stirred considerable opposition from Legislators and sportsmen's groups early this spring by proposing the voter-approved bond be divided on a 30-30-40 basis with 60 million of it going to urban areas.

The Senate Wednesday voted for a bill allocating that amount to community projects, while at the same time keeping $70 million under Natural Resources Commission — and Legislative — control.

Milliken said the Senate compromise "reflects recognition of the principle that more money must be allocated to the cities than would have been under earlier suggestions."

Senators, equally pleased with mutual, face - saving aspects of the bill, said it adhered to terms originally promised to the voters.

Sen. Gordon Rockwell, R - Mount Morris, said the bill "fulfills promises to Michigan taxpayers" and "will receive the approval of a great majority of the people who worked so hard last fall."

In the House, proponents of a similar measure were expected to push for allocation of half the total bond, $50 million, toward outstanding Natural Resources Department projects.

Open Letter to the Citizens of Delta County:

We are taking this opportunity to more fully inform the citizens of Delta County of our objective—to preserve the rights of the individual to a clean environment. We affirm the right of the individual to enjoy the benefits of clean air, clean water, and clean land, and to avoid any conditions injurious to health, property, or the enjoyment of life.

In view of the fact that it is easier to correct a situation before it becomes a problem, the proposed kraft sulphate mill is of primary interest. The likelihood of foul smell from this process is a threat to the entire community for the following reasons:

1. Loss of the pleasure of good, clean, fresh air, especially during outdoor activities.
2. Decrease in home and property values.
3. Loss in tourism.
4. Loss of future industrial growth.
5. Damage to the community's reputation.
6. Disturbance of the balance of nature—our plant and animal life.

We feel that the kraft sulphate mill must be built in a manner to avoid these consequences. To INSURE this, we are seeking a county law that will protect our clean air. In this effort, we invite the support of all interested citizens, government, and local businesses and industries.

Pesticide Paradoxes

About 25 years ago DDT was hailed as a miracle chemical that was helping mankind in many respects. It still may be the most effective pesticide in use today, but can we stand to tolerate it in the environment any longer?

That question was raised along with many others in an address at Blaney Park by Dr. Raymond E. Johnson of Washington, D. C., assistant director for research in the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife. He spoke at the 25th annual dinner meeting of the Michigan Outdoor Writers Association.

The subject was a particularly appropriate one for a Michigan audience, for it was a Michigan official, Dr. Ralph A. MacMullan, chief of the Department of Natural Resources, who spearheaded a fight to control DDT and other pesticides that have been blamed for contaminating fish. The pesticides story is well-known in Lake Michigan, where high levels of pesticide residues have been found in coho salmon.

But, although the pesticide story has been well documented there and in California and New York State, the story still is surrounded by more questions than answers.

Some of these were among the questions posed by Dr. Johnson.

Why, for instance, do pesticide residues seem to be higher in birds than in fish and higher in fish than in invertebrates? And why are residues higher in fresh water fish than in salt water species?

When DDT use is curtailed in some areas, why do residue levels in fish drop as they have in northern Minnesota and Alaska, while in other areas, such as Clear Lake, Calif., and Lake George, N. Y., they continue to rise even after the pesticide is no longer applied?

Why do three parts per million of DDT residues in lake trout seem to inhibit natural reproduction in most places, while 19 parts per million are reported not to inhibit reproduction in one place in Ontario? How can walleyes spawn satisfactorily with residues of seven parts per million?

These are a few of the apparent paradoxes of pesticides. Another is the strange fact that there even is some evidence that one of the pesticides actually seems to be protecting waterfowl in part of the country against botulism.

Obviously, there are many things that we do not know about DDT after 25 years or so. These are things that research should teach us in the next five to seven years, but what should be done in the meantime?

"Warnings about pesticides were being made by conservationists as early as 1958, and the problem was clearly outlined to us as early as 1962," Dr. Johnson said. "A review of these warnings and a resolve to phase out persistent pesticides is clearly in order, especially since a presidential study committee recommended such action early in 1963."

Michigan already has initiated action in this direction. Other states almost certainly will follow Michigan's lead.

But curbing pesticides will not solve the problem pesticides were created to deal with — the control of insects that threaten crops and trees. Dr. Johnson thinks the solution is that one may lie in the long run in biological control of pests so that bacterial spores or virus organisms or sterility mechanisms will do the work that we now expect of our broad spectrum chemicals.

So it's back to the drawing board, men.

Computer Law

A new electronic speed computer is going into operation in State Police patrol cars in Michigan.

The computer, a small, two-piece instrument which is mounted on the dashboard of a patrol car, will allow an officer to "clock" a vehicle in any kind of weather, day or night, and whether the patrol car is parked or cruising. One hundred of the units have been purchased, permitting installation in at least one car of every State Police post in the state, and the acquisition is another instance of the growing reliance of police officers on modern technology to better enforce the state's laws.

Radar, of course, has been used for a number of years to clock speeders. Airplanes and helicopters are used in patrol work. Television cameras are at work on freeways in Detroit and the two-way radio has been a part of the law officer's equipment for years. Now comes the computer.

There could be a problem, initially, in getting computer evidence accepted in a court of law — many juries still don't believe the accuracy of the Breathalyzer which is used to measure blood alcohol levels through a chemical test of a person's breath — but just the thought that a patrol car may be parked along a highway watching cars with a computer should slow down some motorists.

If it saves just one life, the benefit will be proved.

Peninsula Potpourri

Nationally-known authorities will appear in person and on video tape at an August 7-8 workshop on legal criminal problems at Marquette. All Upper Peninsula police departments are being invited to the workshop, which is offered by Michigan State University, on Northern Michigan University's campus. Topics to be covered include civil disturbance and riot legislation, interrogation and confession, and recent Supreme Court decisions.

Last of the job corpsmen have left the Ojibway Job Corps center. The camp, located near Marinisco, will be closed July 1 along with 58 other Job Corps centers throughout the United States. Most of the 224 corpsmen assigned to Ojibway when the closing was announced have been transferred to other centers. No plans for future use of the center have been made but equipment is being "mothballed" and some staff members will be retained as custodians.

Prime Rate Hike Hits Little People

By JOHN CUNIFF
NEW YORK (AP) — For officers of Bankers Trust Co., the past weekend was less comfortable than it could have been. Throughout the weekend they lived with the knowledge they would explode a financial bomb on Monday.

It was Bankers, the nation's seventh largest commercial bank—close to $7.7 billion in assets—which initiated this week's big, full-point increase in the prime lending rate to 8.5 per cent, highest in many years.

Now this may not mean an awful lot immediately to many Americans, but it can cost big corporations millions of dollars. And what happens to big business in this country always affects little people after a while.

At that time, confidential sources related, an increase appeared almost inevitable to officers of the bank. But they delayed making an announcement.

Confidential talks continued over the weekend—confidential because for banks to conspire to raise rates is equivalent to price fixing—but nothing happened in the financial markets to change the decision.

With hours after the Bankers Trust announcement most of the major banks across the nation had concurred, thus assuring that the long anticipated increase would hold. Whatever holdouts remained were of small consequence.

For weeks in financial circles it was known that an increase had to come, but banks reportedly were reluctant to initiate action and incur the wrath of Washington officials at a time when major banking matters were under study.

Bankers Trust officials were said to have made the decision reluctantly and with some misgivings, because it was put, "The bank is not sympathetic with higher rates and is not at all sure these moves are always understood."

Modest Jump
Although the one-point jump was two to four times the customary increase, Edmund F. Ebert, senior vice president, termed it modest. Modest, he said, in relation to the high rates already prevailing elsewhere in the market place.

The increase, he said, was simply in response to market forces. For example, high rates in the long-term bond market, where insurance companies and other institutions often supply the money, was forcing many corporations to turn to their banks to borrow.

This, Ebert explained, forced an expansion of bank credit, a situation that encouraged inflation at the very time all responsible financial, business and government officials avowedly were fighting inflation to the death.

It also brought about a situation where banks seriously had to consider rationing credit, paring their list of customers qualifying for the prime rate, and actually facing the prospect of denying—and losing—important customers.

Letters To The Press

CHAMBERLAIN AND ABM
Well, John Chamberlain has done it again. That June 3 article of his about the ABM system was a morbidly charming piece of work.

In the article, Chamberlain was chiefly concerned with setting up Dr. Edward Teller as some sort of infallible oracle of defense strategy. Teller, while a weapons physicist of formidable reputation, is demonstrably wrong in his support of the ABM Sentinel program.

As has been pointed out by a number of equally reputable scientists, among them several Nobel prize winners, the proposed ABM would suffer a nasty tendency to go totally blind at inopportune moments; like during a nuclear attack. The radiation and ionization created by the warheads on our defensive missiles would blind the radars that guide them.

This effect is acknowledged to be a serious problem even by comparative higher-ups in the Defense Department. Dan Fink, who is the assistant to Dr. John Foster, the Pentagon's chief research man, has stated publicly that even partial correction of the black-out problem will require a redesign of the ABM system's radars. In the face of such evidence one may legitimately wonder just why Dr. Teller would still support such a boom-dodge.

The answer may well have been provided in a remark made by Sen. J. William Fulbright in recent testimony before his Senate Foreign Affairs Committee. Fulbright pointed out that both Dr. Teller and Nobel Laureate Eugene Wigner, who were there testifying in favor of ABM deployment, came from Eastern European countries now subjugated by the Soviets and as such might be supporting ABM deployment out of an understandable fear of the Russians rather than a sincere conviction that the system would actually work.

It should be realized, however, that, with a few exceptions like Dr. Teller, the predominance of opinion favorable to the ABM system comes from company and government officials who stand to profit directly from the construction of a largely useless weapons system. Many government officials, in fact, become officers in defense contracting corporations when a change of administration puts them out of a job.

A good example is former Assistant Secretary of Defense for Manpower, Thomas Morris, who left office for a lucrative vice presidency in Litton Industries. The military-industrial complex is alive, but is fighting for its life. If Congress and the people manage to torpedo this ABM program, a precedent will have been set and corporations like General Dynamics and Lockheed, which live almost totally off of government contracts, will no longer be able to callously loot the U. S. Treasury at will.

Chamberlain's scare tactics

add little to reasoned debate. He mentions a Soviet test of shooting down orbiting satellites; what he doesn't mention, is that this is irrelevant since an ABM system couldn't possibly stop a launch and interception taking place on the other side of the world.

The Russian ABM system, which Chamberlain says is providing the Soviets valuable practical experience, is not, as he claims, being expanded, but is being phased out. Russia doesn't need an ABM any more than we do and has apparently been smart enough to realize it, let's hope that we do the same.

VOTING TURNOUT

The voters of the Escanaba Area School District again have proved that public apathy in this area is a constant thing.

Last fall, when the transportation problem evolved everywhere was up in arms with one opinion or another. Public meetings were held and the talk in Escanaba was on the school buses running or not running.

What happened to all the "bleeding hearts" on election day? Where were you when you could voice your opinion on the written ballot?

Oh, excuse me, your golf game is too important to lose five minutes to vote, or Mrs. Housewife, you just had to have your hair done and could not find time to vote. I could list probably a thousand different excuses people have used to justify not voting. But not one of these is worth the words and effort used to speak them.

I can only convey these words to the 8,000 or more who did not vote: "Your fellow members of the community blush for you," because the 901 people who did vote seem to be the only ones who care.

It is gratifying to know that we did elect three men to the school board who do care enough to involve themselves, but if you do not like the job they do in the coming years don't start complaining, because it was you who did not vote, and it was you who did not care enough to see the importance of this election.

I do not like to scold adults for not voting as though they are children, but you have shown that in order to get any reaction out of you, one has to insult you. So if you did not vote, I hope you do take this as a personal insult, because I feel ashamed to admit that I am from Escanaba after less than 10 per cent of the registered voters cast ballots in such an important election as the one held Monday.

So please don't come crying when the new education problems crop up in the coming years, because you have no right to complain when you are too busy to vote!

Opening lead — jack of hearts.

Let's say you're declarer at three notrump and West leads the jack of hearts, East signaling with the eight. You win with the king, but what do you do next?

Obviously, your best suit is clubs, and you might therefore begin by leading the ace and another club. But if you did this, you would surely go down.

East would win and return a heart to set up his suit. You would now have eight ready tricks — four clubs and two sets of A-Ks — but whenever you got around to leading a diamond to try to score a ninth trick, the defense would grab the ace and cash their hearts to put you down one.

The plain and unadulterated fact is that if you begin by leading a club you are heading for sure defeat. Your cause is hopeless if you do this. What you should do is lead a low diamond at trick two. This is the only play that gives you a chance for the contract.

Note what happens when you do this. If West goes up with the ace, you have nine ready tricks consisting of two spades, two hearts, four diamonds and a club. If he does not go up with the ace, you win with the king, lead a club, and finesse when East follows low (this is a safety play to guard against East's having the K-Q-6).

West wins with the queen and returns a heart, but you now have nine ready tricks consisting of two spades, two hearts, one diamond and four clubs.

The hand demonstrates somewhat pointedly that you do not necessarily start the play by attacking your longest, or your strongest, or your most promising suit, but rather the one that offers the best chance for the contract. Each hand is a law unto itself.

Governor Has Open House

LANSING (AP) — The Michigan Legislature went visiting early Wednesday evening, invited for cocktails by Gov. and Mrs. William G. Milliken at their recently acquired $440,000 Lansing mansion.

The large, single-story residence on Lansing's exclusive lower southwest side, was donated to the state by trucking executive Howard Sobor.

In deeding the home for use as the governor's official residence — Milliken and his wife had been living in an East Lansing apartment — Sobor stipulated only that the state pay for the furnishings.

Included are numerous pieces of furniture and are objects, both antique and oriental. Few of the legislators and their wives who wandered through the mansion failed to be impressed — one way or another.

A vast, pink-walled master bathroom, complete with fluffy white carpet, sunken bathtub and separate shower, received wide acclaim.

"Gee, wouldn't it be great to take a shower in that thing just once," said one legislator.

Milliken "made a mistake, letting us see this place," said another. "Now there'll be 148 of us campaigning for his job next time."

Not all were entirely soiled on the home, which once boasted electric roses to match the motorized drapes and foldaway, vibrator bed.

"It's a nice place to visit, but I wouldn't want to live here," said a ranking legislator.

And another added, "I live like this all the time. Have you seen my hotel room?"

Camper Meet

Wife Chases While He Was In Vietnam

Dear Ann Landers: I was sitting in a busy airport last week, in the nation's capital. Next to me a young mother (she couldn't have been more than 23 years old) was breast feeding her infant. I know the girl was not a foreigner because I heard her speak to her 3-year-old in perfect English.

She made no effort to cover herself — just sat there in the middle of the airport, with hundreds of people milling around, completely oblivious to the stares she was getting from men and the dirty looks she was getting from the women.

If you say there's nothing wrong with this sort of thing I'll take your word for it, but to my way of thinking, breast feeding a baby in public is the same as being a topless waitress. — Mrs. B.

Dear Mrs. B.: There's no more similarity between breast feeding a baby in public and being a topless waitress than there is in undressing to take a shower and posing for the center spread of a girlie magazine.

That poor woman is ignorant, not lewd. In our culture it is not considered good taste to breast feed a baby in public, but she didn't know better.

Dear Ann Landers: My husband will be coming home from Vietnam in seven weeks. We weren't getting along when he left, in fact we talked seriously about a divorce. When he left we agreed to wait and see what the separation did to our feelings for one another.

During his absence I have been going with a couple of former boyfriends. I decided not to sneak around, so of course a great many people have seen me, including my in-laws.

These past few weeks I've done some soul-searching and have decided I love my husband more than I thought. Dating others has been a good thing because I now realize that my husband is the best of the lot. I've decided I want to make a go of our marriage and I am willing to work my heart out to achieve this goal.

Question (1): Should I tell my husband I dated in his absence? Question (2): Did I do wrong? — Learned A Lot

Dear Learned: (1) Yes. And don't waste any time. You can be sure some self-appointed vigilante will feel it is his or her sworn duty, as a true friend, to fill your husband in on your activities.

(2) Probably.

Dear Ann Landers: A relative needs advice. He and his wife didn't get along. They were divorced. He felt the children would be better off if he kept out of the picture after his wife remarried. He left town and stayed away nine years. Two weeks ago he returned to the city and went to see his children. They were very unfriendly. He thinks he made a mistake. How can he win their love? — Seattle

Ward Injured In Car Mishap

Montgomery L. Ward, 32, 513 Mackinac Ave., is in serious condition at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital from injuries received in a one-car accident at 12:30 Tuesday morning.

State Police said Ward's car evidently failed to negotiate a curve on county road 442, near the Indian Lake State Park entrance. The Ward vehicle rolled over and sustained considerable damage.

Ward was thrown out of the car. He was taken to the hospital by Public Safety ambulance.

Gary Sample, 18, 429 Delta Ave., was ticketed for failure to report a property damage accident by troopers after his vehicle struck a tree on county road 445, three miles east of Federal Forest Highway 13. The mishap occurred about 10 p.m. Monday.

Sample said he lost control of his auto when he swerved to avoid hitting a deer.

The Sample car was damaged but able to be driven, troopers said.

State Police are also investigating the malicious destruction occurring to a cabin in Germfask Township owned by a Mr. Cole. Five windows in the cabin were broken by B-B gun pellets.

Ward Injured In Car Mishap

Montgomery L. Ward, 32, 513 Mackinac Ave., is in serious condition at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital from injuries received in a one-car accident at 12:30 Tuesday morning.

State Police said Ward's car evidently failed to negotiate a curve on county road 442, near the Indian Lake State Park entrance. The Ward vehicle rolled over and sustained considerable damage.

Ward was thrown out of the car. He was taken to the hospital by Public Safety ambulance.

Gary Sample, 18, 429 Delta Ave., was ticketed for failure to report a property damage accident by troopers after his vehicle struck a tree on county road 443, three miles east of Federal Forest Highway 13. The mishap occurred about 10 p.m. Monday.

Sample said he lost control of his auto when he swerved to avoid hitting a deer.

The Sample car was damaged but able to be driven, troopers said.

State Police are also investigating the malicious destruction occurring to a cabin in Germfask Township owned by a Mr. Cole. Five windows in the cabin were broken by B-B gun pellets.

Joan M. Peiegran of Milwaukee was cited for speeding by State Police on Wednesday.

Grad Party Set For Tonight

The all-night Grad Party, an annual affair following Commencement at the Manistique High School, will get underway at 10 p.m. tonight.

The 151 graduating seniors have chosen their choice of activity from five planned offerings for the hours of 10 p.m. to 12 midnight. Swimming, shooting at the National Guard Armory, miniature golf, bowling and roller skating are being offered. In case of inclement weather, the students will be asked to switch to indoor activities.

Students must furnish their own transportation to the 10-12 events. Chaperones will be on hand at each place.

The grads will gather at the Elks Temple between 12 and 12:15 when a midnight supper will be served. Grads who plan to attend the party at the Elks must be at the Temple by 12:15. No one will be admitted after that time.

The early morning hours of activity will include dancing, bowling, games, contests and other special surprises.

Prizes will be awarded just before breakfast, served at 5:30 a.m.

Students will not be allowed to return to the all-night party once they have left. A time record will be kept of those students who do leave.

Rev. Roy Pitts is again serving as general chairman of the party. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ebbli are food chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. George Chvala, hospitality; Mr. and Mrs. William Males, finance; Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gray, bowling; Leo DeMars, clean up squad; Mrs. Carol Stoll, decorating; Richard Stoll, breakfast.

Energy released by just one pound of the sun would keep a kitchen stove going with all burners on for several years.

Expect Outcry If Reservists Not Withdrawn

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Army officials are fearful there may be an outcry from Congress if mobilized National Guardsmen and reservists are omitted from the 25,000 U.S. troops to be withdrawn from Vietnam.

About 12,000 of the 20,000 Army guardsmen and reservists called up last year are serving in Vietnam. Half are in their original mobilized units and the other half were sent overseas as individual replacements.

A special task force opened a three-day meeting today at Pacific Command Headquarters in Honolulu to work out details of the withdrawal.

The Nixon administration has said the 25,000 men to be brought out of Vietnam this summer will include both Army and Marine troops, most of them in combat outfits.

Some members of Congress attacked last year's call to active duty as unnecessary.

If regular units are withdrawn from Vietnam while guardsmen and reservists remain in the war zone, Army authorities fear this criticism may be renewed—possibly with greater intensity.

Some staff officers also anticipate protests from families of mobilized guardsmen and reservists in Vietnam unless at least part of them are included in the withdrawn contingents.

Pullout of the 25,000 troops is due to start within 30 days and to be completed by the end of August.

National Guard and reserve units began arriving in Vietnam late last August. Therefore, none of the 43 outfits will complete the standard one year war tour until this August. Most reached the war last autumn.

Only four of the 43 units are combat types—two artillery battalions from New Hampshire and Kentucky, a combat engineer battalion from Idaho and a long-range patrol infantry company from Indiana. The remainder are medical transportation, ordnance, quartermaster, postal, signal and other support types.

Viet Casualties Listed At 252

SAIGON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in battle in Vietnam last week was nine less than the week before, but the total of combat deaths among South Vietnamese government forces and among the enemy ranks increased.

The casualty summaries issued today were for the seven-day period ending at midnight Saturday, however, and included only two days of the stepped-up enemy activity prior to the Midway summit conference Sunday.

U.S. headquarters reported 282 Americans killed in action last week, compared with 261 the previous week. The number of wounded was higher, 2,125 compared with 1,810 a week earlier.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 457 government troops killed in action last week, a marked increase over 325 the previous week. The number of government-wounded last week was 1,391, also an increase over 1,021 a week earlier.

The two commands said 3,900 enemy were reported killed last week. The total for the previous week was increased from 2,637 to 3,087 in accordance with reports received since last Thursday.

College Trustees Vote Tuition Rate Increase

The Board of Trustees of Bay de Noc Community College Wednesday night approved an across-the-board increase in tuition rates for the college for the 1969-70 academic year.

The increase will raise tuition for Delta County residents from $7 to $9 per credit, for out-of-county residents of Michigan from $10 to $12 per credit and for out-of-state residents from $13.50 to $17.50 per credit.

Simultaneously, the Board approved elimination of all laboratory fees.

"This, together with the tuition increase, will result in the necessary increase in total revenues and will distribute tuition costs across all students, rather than just those who are taking laboratory courses on the theory that students who happen to be in fields involving laboratory courses should not be penalized as compared with students who are not in laboratory courses, but who might require greater use of the library," said Dr. Richard Rinehart, college president.

The Board also eliminated the $5 application fee for Delta County.

"This was done to provide increased ability for potential students and people in the community to inquire about possible college programs and receive counseling assistance without having to pay an application fee," Rinehart said.

The revised tuition structure will increase revenues for the college by about $7,000, he said.

An operating budget of $869,429 also was approved for 1969-70 operations. The budget does not include vocational

Marine Patrol In DMZ Clash

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. Marine patrol clashed with North Vietnamese troops inside the demilitarized zone, then carried some of its wounded over mountains and through jungles for two days to safety, U.S. headquarters announced today.

Two Marine helicopters were shot down and destroyed as they tried to rescue the patrol of a dozen or more men. All of the helicopter crewmen escaped unhurt, and joined the patrol.

It was the first ground clash reported in the DMZ in nearly three months, and a U.S. spokesman said the two choppers were the first shot down over the zone since the halt in the bombing of North Vietnam Nov. 1.

The action began last Saturday near the western end of the DMZ and the last Marines finally made it back Wednesday. Through it all, only seven Leathernecks were wounded, four of them were hit accidentally by fire from an Air Force gunship that was covering the patrol's withdrawal.

The U.S. Command has announced on several occasions that from time to time American patrols go into the DMZ to check on North Vietnamese movements which cannot be detected by the daily reconnaissance American planes make of the area.

The U.S. Command has accused North Vietnam of more than 5,000 violations of the zone since the American halt in the bombing of North Vietnam last Nov. 1. But Hanoi denies it made any agreement to stay out of the zone.

Governor Signs Water Bond Bill

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken this morning signed the $285 million water pollution abatement bill, terming it "one of the most significant measures to come out of this legislative session."

At the same time, Milliken charged the Federal Government had "failed miserably" in its responsibility to do something about water pollution.

"We should be getting $42 million this year from the Federal Government for pollution clean-up," Milliken said. "We will be lucky if we get as much as $8 million."

"The state is moving in the right direction," Milliken said, "while the Federal Government has fallen down."

The Governor said that under the system of giving local grants for sewage treatment control, the $285 million bond issue should help the state attain clean water by 1980.

"I find it very difficult to understand the low Federal priority assigned to the sewage treatment grant program," Milliken said. "When in referendum after referendum across the country, citizens of America have clearly demonstrated their very firm support for cleaning up our lakes and streams."

"Michigan, with or without Federal support, will move ahead as rapidly as possible," the Governor said.

Meanwhile, he charged, the Federal Government, "by authorizing $1 billion and appropriating only $200 million is providing about one-fifth of what is needed to carry out Federal responsibility."

Lewis defended his action on grounds that he never would have called out his men if the war effort would have been hurt. There was plenty of coal available to fight the war, he said.

He was born in Lucas, Iowa, the son of a Welsh coal miner. His mother came from a Welsh mining family. He quit school at 12 and went into the coal pit.

Lady Plumber Changes Brand

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of us hard-core television viewers are in shock and all at sea. It's Josephine, the jolly lady plumber. After all those seasons she has spent shaking brand X on one stain and her favorite scouring powder on the other, Josephine is now all over the tube urging people not to buy the stuff.

It turns out that she is only fooling. It's just her way of telling us that her product has a new formula and to buy it. Josephine has always had luck in finding sinks with just two stains, and it looks as if Josephine's product is still beating brand X by the same easy margin. If those brand X people were smart, they — not Josephine's people — would be busy improving their stuff.

These sudden shifts by old friends including Josephine are among the little dramas that constantly absorb us, the faithful viewers. But it isn't really the sort of thing that you like to talk much about.

About a year ago, old friend Katy Winters was very much in evidence advising us to throw away that personal product she had been raving about for so long. Again, it was simply a way to tell us about a change of formula, but it sort of got one brooding about Katy's loyalty.

However, some other people are concerned about Katy and Josephine, saying this gambit of advising people not to buy is a curious sales device.

Scholle Makes Plea For Better Environment

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Michigan could be a state of sterile men with people choking to death within the next half century, warned Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle at the close of a three-day convention here.

"I hope I've frightened you, I intended to," Scholle told the more than 450 delegates as he made an impassioned plea for passage of a resolution on environmental quality.

The resolution, calling for a continued vigil to maintain high quality in environment for present and future citizens, "received overwhelming approval from the delegates, who also endorsed a call for an action committee within the AFL-CIO to push for clean air and clean water."

Scholle pledged his support for a one-day session attended by Michigan AFL-CIO delegates in Lansing, to study the matter of controls on water and air pollution.

Other resolutions passed by the convention called for substantially increased state school aid, improved unemployment compensation, auto insurance legislation, more mental health programs, improved legislation for consumer protection, increasing the minimum wage to $2 an hour, federal income tax reform, a continued fight against poverty and a referendum in 1970 to eliminate the Michigan Constitution's prohibition of a graduated income tax.

session would not proceed until after all members — many of whom wandered around the chamber in a near-chaotic scene — sat down.

Brown said he wanted to defend the right of Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy, to explain a "no" vote on an unrelated bill. Schweigert refused to continue the session until Brown took his seat and the impasse — termed "stupid" and "assinine" by some members — began.

Sen. Roger Craig, D-Deerborn, proposed that Schweigert order the sergeants-at-arms to force Brown to his seat or escort him from the chamber.

"Are you kidding?" Brown retorted from his perch atop a stool he ordered placed at the microphone. "If you've got a pointed cap, put my name on it," he challenged.

"You can sit here like asses," Brown said, "but you can't gag me on this Senate floor."

Craig also denounced Schweigert's order as "a strange and esoteric ruling for which there is no precedent. God didn't appoint him" as Senate president, Craig said. "Somebody in leadership should take the gavel."

Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, refused to back Schweigert's ruling and said he concurred in the president's actions.

"It's a question of who runs this Senate," Schweigert said. Neither of Craig's proposals was carried out.

Brown earlier had challenged "What you men have done is an insult and an affront to every woman in the state of Michigan," charged Sen. N. Lorraine Beebe, R - Dearborn, the only woman senator.

Mrs. Beebe supported the measure to reform the Michigan law which now allows abortion only when the life of the mother is endangered.

Leaders, meanwhile, revised their deadline schedule after the Brown-Schweigert hassle and lengthy debate.

BUILDING FOR DEAD
KYOTO (AP)—Shortage in burial land has brought about a 10-story ferro-concrete building in Kyoto, West Japan, purely to house the dead.

The Nishi-Honganji Temple constructed the building, which is complete with a hall for worship.

The Japanese practice is to cremate their dead and have the ashes either enshrined at home or buried in a family plot.

Prices of a repository range from 300,000 yen (about $833) to 1,000,000 yen (about $2,777).

DR. FREEMAN HERSEY, left, president of the Michigan Health Officers Association, presents to Dr. Mary Cretens, director of the Delta-Menominee district health department, an award for outstanding service to public health. The award was presented at a board of health staff dinner held last night at the Terrace Supper Club. Guest speaker at the dinner was Dr. Kenneth Wilcox, bureau chief of laboratories, Michigan Department of Health.

College Trustees Vote Tuition Rate Increase

The Board of Trustees of Bay de Noc Community College Wednesday night approved an across-the-board increase in tuition rates for the college for the 1969-70 academic year.

The increase will raise tuition for Delta County residents from $7 to $9 per credit, for out-of-county residents of Michigan from $10 to $12 per credit and for out-of-state residents from $13.50 to $17.50 per credit.

Simultaneously, the Board approved elimination of all laboratory fees.

"This, together with the tuition increase, will result in the necessary increase in total revenues and will distribute tuition costs across all students, rather than just those who are taking laboratory courses on the theory that students who happen to be in fields involving laboratory courses should not be penalized as compared with students who are not in laboratory courses, but who might require greater use of the library," said Dr. Richard Rinehart, college president.

The Board also eliminated the $5 application fee for Delta County.

"This was done to provide increased ability for potential students and people in the community to inquire about possible college programs and receive counseling assistance without having to pay an application fee," Rinehart said.

The revised tuition structure will increase revenues for the college by about $7,000, he said.

An operating budget of $669,429 also was approved for 1969-70 operations. The budget does not include vocational equipment, construction or buildings, cafeteria operation or summer or special programs.

The total is $112,121 over the 1968-69 budget.

Major increases included $36,268 for general academic instruction, $19,903 for vocational-technical instruction, $5,220 for educational administration, $15,794 for admissions and registration, $5,042 for general administration (president's office), $6,150 for the business office, $4,450 for operation of plant and equipment, and $11,590 for maintenance of plant and equipment.

The college plans to open its first new building on its new campus this fall.

Marine Patrol In DMZ Clash

SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. Marine patrol clashed with North Vietnamese troops inside the demilitarized zone, then carried some of its wounded over mountains and through jungles for two days to safety, U.S. headquarters announced today.

Two Marine helicopters were shot down and destroyed as they tried to rescue the patrol of a dozen or more men. All of the helicopter crewmen escaped unhurt, and joined the patrol.

It was the first ground clash reported in the DMZ in nearly three months, and a U.S. spokesman said the two choppers were the first shot down over the zone since the halt in the bombing of North Vietnam Nov. 1.

The action began last Saturday near the western end of the DMZ and the last Marines finally made it back Wednesday. Through it all, only seven Leathernecks were wounded, four of them were hit accidentally by fire from an Air Force gunship that was covering the patrol's withdrawal.

The U.S. Command has announced on several occasions that from time to time American patrols go into the DMZ to check on North Vietnamese movements which cannot be detected by the daily reconnaissance American planes make of the area.

The U.S. Command has accused North Vietnam of more than 5,000 violations of the zone since the American halt in the bombing of North Vietnam last Nov. 1. But Hanoi denies it made any agreement to stay out of the zone.

Lady Plumber Changes Brand

NEW YORK (AP) — A lot of us hard-core television viewers are in shock and all at sea. It's Josephine, the jolly lady plumber. After all those seasons she has spent shaking brand X on one stain and her favorite scouring powder on the other, Josephine is now all over the tube urging people not to buy the stuff.

It turns out that she is only fooling. It's just her way of telling us that her product has a new formula and to buy it. Josephine has always had luck in finding sinks with just two stains, and it looks as if Josephine's product is still beating brand X by the same easy margin. If those brand X people were smart, they — not Josephine's people—would be busy improving their stuff.

These sudden shifts by old friends including Josephine are among the little dramas that constantly absorb us, the faithful viewers. But it isn't really the sort of thing that you like to talk much about.

About a year ago, old friend Katy Winters was very much in evidence advising us to throw away that personal product she had been raving about for so long. Again, it was simply a way to tell us about a change of formula, but it sort of got one brooding about Katy's loyalty.

However, some other people are concerned about Katy and Josephine, saying this gambit of advising people not to buy is a curious sales device.

Scholle Makes Plea For Better Environment

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Michigan could be a state of sterile men with people choking to death within the next half century, warned Michigan AFL-CIO President August Scholle at the close of a three-day convention here.

"I hope I've frightened you. I intended to," Scholle told the more than 450 delegates as he made an impassioned plea for passage of a resolution on environmental quality.

The resolution, calling for a continued vigil to maintain high quality in environment for present and future citizens, received overwhelming approval from the delegates, who also endorsed a call for an action committee within the AFL-CIO to push for clean air and clean water.

Scholle pledged his support for a one-day session attended by Michigan AFL-CIO delegates in Lansing, to study the matter of controls on water and air pollution.

Other resolutions passed by the convention called for substantially increased state school aid, improved unemployment compensation, auto insurance legislation, more mental health programs, improved legislation for consumer protection, increasing the minimum wage to $2 an hour, federal income tax reform, a continued fight against poverty and a referendum in 1970 to eliminate the Michigan Constitution's prohibition of a graduated income tax.

Governor Signs Water Bond Bill

LANSING (AP)—Gov. William Milliken this morning signed the $285 million water pollution abatement bill, terming it "one of the most significant measures to come out of this legislative session."

At the same time, Milliken charged the Federal Government had "failed miserably" in its responsibility to do something about water pollution. "We should be getting $42 million this year from the Federal Government for pollution clean-up," Milliken said. "We will be lucky if we get as much as $8 million."

"The state is moving in the right direction," Milliken said, "while the Federal Government has fallen down."

The Governor said that under the system of giving local grants for sewage treatment control, the $285 million bond issue should help the state attain clean water by 1980.

"I find it very difficult to understand the low Federal priority assigned to the sewage treatment grant program," Milliken said. "When in referendum after referendum across the country, citizens of America have clearly demonstrated their very firm support for cleaning up our lakes and streams."

"Michigan, with or without Federal support, will move ahead as rapidly as possible," the Governor said.

Meanwhile, he charged, the Federal Government, "by authorizing $1 billion and appropriating only $200 million is providing about one-fifth of what is needed to carry out Federal responsibility."

the pits during World War II, the only major labor leader to call strikes while the fighting raged.

Lewis defended his action on grounds that he never would have called out his men if the war effort would have been hurt. There was plenty of coal available to fight the war, he said.

He was born in Lucas, Iowa, the son of a Welsh coal miner. His mother came from a Welsh mining family. He quit school at 12 and went into the coal pit.

In 1907 he married Myrtle Edith Bell. She was his intellectual prod, leading him in Bible study, pointing out the joys of Shakespeare and the town's theater productions. Myrtle died in 1942. They had two children.

Lewis retired as head of the UMW in 1960, but was given the title of "president emeritus." Although he lived quietly at the boyhood home of Robert E. Lee in Alexandria, Va., across the Potomac from the capital, he continued to work five days a week as head of the union's pension fund until recently.

'Plan For Planning A Plan'

Higher Education Plan Approved

LANSING (AP) — The State Board of Education, over the dissent of two members, has approved a plan for the future of higher education in Michigan.

The board majority, approving the plan by a 6-2 vote Wednesday, said it will serve as the basic framework for involvement by the board and department of education in all phases of post-high school education.

Board treasurer James O'Neil and secretary Michael Deeb were critical of the near 100-page document, which took more than two years to develop. O'Neil was the most bitter critic. He said it was not really a plan but "a plan for planning a plan."

"It is long on projections and costs and short on effectiveness and efficiency," O'Neil said.

Spend $3.8 Billion
O'Neil said the board-approved plan would spend $3.8 billion over a nine-year period to maintain the status quo of higher education.

He suggested instead that the governor and the Legislature consider expanding free public education beyond high school through two years of community college.

He also recommended immediate assistance in establishing Wayne County Community College.

O'Neil said the governing boards and students of the state supported colleges and universities were not asked to sit in on development of the plan.

No Action
A spokesman for the state council of university and college presidents, he said, had criticized the plan for containing "so few proposals for action and so many proposals for more studies."

O'Neil suggested that perhaps the governor or Legislature would have to develop a meaningful plan for higher education.

The board majority said the plan proposes 38 specific goals and policy statements for higher education.

"These range from community college districting matters to procedures which the board would follow in the event new four-year public colleges and universities are established," it contended.

"Included also are guidelines for coordinating all sorts of existing post-secondary educational units, means for extending higher education to more citizens and many others."

The Education Board said it plans to enact final guidelines in the area of sex education in public schools "as soon as possible" after consulting with school officials and holding public hearings.

The board discussed but took no action on a proposal to create a maritime academy at Northwestern Michigan College, Traverse City.

College Students Called Nuisance

DETROIT (AP) — A group of Detroit residents Wednesday filed suit in Wayne County Circuit Court complaining that college students make too much noise.

The suit was brought against five Wayne State University fraternities charging members play electric guitars too loudly and shout early in the morning.

In addition, cars parked all over made the fraternities' behavior "a continuing and intolerable nuisance," they charged.

The five fraternities — Tau Epsilon Phi, Phi Sigma Delta, Delta Sigma Pi, Sigma Alpha Mu and Sigma Pi—are all on the same block as the eight complainants.

The students say that "the noise isn't that bad," and one of the house managers said they keep the noise down whenever police ask them to, "so they (the neighbors) won't keep calling."

The complaining tenants and homeowners got a temporary restraining order until a hearing June 20.

IN BIG TROUBLE in New York is Anthony Guarino (above), a carpenter from Italy who faces 60 counts of practicing medicine without a license. Authorities found out Guarino, 30, because he had marriage licenses pending with two women — and he already is married to a third.

August Hopes To Rejoin Force

DETROIT (AP) — Acquitted in the Algiers Motel slaying of a 19-year-old Negro youth in Detroit's 1967 racial riots, suspended Patrolman Ronald August expressed hope Wednesday of rejoining the Detroit Police Department.

The 30-year-old August, however, still faces a federal conspiracy charge under an 1871 civil rights law, along with two other white officers and a Negro private guard.

In addition, he also faces possible Police Trial Board action for failing to file a report on the slaying for five days and then twice changing his statement to finally admit killing Aubrey Pollard, but claiming self defense.

Neither a federal court nor police board trial date has been set. Meanwhile, August remains suspended from duty.

The federal case against August alleges conspiracy and abuse of the civil rights of 10 persons, including two white women at the motel: "to punish them and coerce them into making statements regarding the identity of alleged snipers and the location of firearms."

The verdict had an immediate repercussion in the State Senate at Lansing. A Negro lawmaker introduced a resolution calling for an investigation of the conduct of the judge in limiting the jury to only two possible verdicts: acquittal or guilty of first-degree murder.

"The inevitable result of the trial...has granted a license to kill to the Detroit Police Department and all law enforcement agencies so far as black men are concerned," said a resolution proposed by Sen. Basil Brown, a suburban Highland Park attorney.

Activities Program Underway For Fairview Manor Residents

By MARGARET ADAMS

It was cold and raining in Gladstone Wednesday afternoon but residents of Fairview Manor were enjoying the cheerful atmosphere of their new home. Fairview Manor is the name chosen by the Housing Commission for the Housing for the Elderly Project located on S. 4th St., at the foot of Montana Ave. The site was well chosen, as was the name, as the residents are willing to tell anyone. The view of Little Bay de Noc through the stately pines is hard to beat, they say.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Norberg were one of the first couples to move into the new project in January and are more than happy with their new surroundings.

Their apartment on the second floor of the three story structure is attractively furnished and Mrs. Norberg says, with a little planning, there is ample cupboard and floor space for their needs. In fact, they are so happy they have no desire to return to their former mode of living.

Elected Chairman

Norberg was elected chairman of the Manor at their house election in April and Mrs. Norberg is secretary and historian. Other officers are Delore Bunno, vice chairman and Mrs. Emilie Mackin, treasurer.

After the election, committees were appointed. Mrs. Dorothy Kah is in charge of arranging for Outside Entertainment; Mrs. Lucille Weissert, house committee chairman, is in charge of house entertainment; Mrs. Clara Reimer, kitchen committee chairman, is in charge of refreshments served during any of the house activities, and Mrs. Pearl Gilbert is the Social Service chairman and visits with tenants and generally coordinates the feeling of the group.

The community room is a busy place where residents may gather for visiting or games. Card tables are available, as well as comfortable, modern furniture just for socializing. The patio, which has a beautiful view of the bay, is nearing completion and is accessible from the community room. Mrs. Norberg said a library is being planned and several books are already on the shelves.

Alarm Installed

Utilities are included in the modest rent, $38, per month, and this includes the TV cable in each apartment. E. J. Henriksen, city manager and housing director, said a central alarm system has been installed in each apartment and when the cord is pulled a light flashes outside the apartment door and a bell sounds to bring immediate assistance at any time of the day or night.

ate assistance at any time of the day or night.

Complete laundry facilities are located on both the second and third floors, with two washers and dryers in each utility room. Mrs. Norberg says the arrangements prove very satisfactory if one has to wait for another to finish up their laundry it provides an excellent time for visiting with a neighbor.

Mail time is also a visiting hour. Complete box service is located in the lobby and the people are trying to figure out a way to make stamps available also. Garbage disposals in each apartment and trash chutes on each floor eliminate the necessity to go outside.

Joseph Hughes is the custodian and keeps things in first class shape. Light bulbs were being replaced in the recessed wells in the lobby Wednesday as tenants visited while waiting to go shopping or for their guests.

Not Nursing Home

Henriksen pointed out that the unit was not to be confused with a Nursing Home facility as people must be ambulatory to become a tenant. In the case of a married couple at least one must be able to care for their needs.

He said a federal inspector had been in the area recently and told Henriksen that this was an outstanding unit and that it far exceeded any in his territory which includes the Upper Peninsula and surrounding area.

Driveways are being prepared for blacktopping and lawns and landscaping will begin as soon as this work has been finished. The tenants are already planning flower gardens around the sidewalks and flower boxes for the eight balconies.

Between cribbage games and bakery exchanges the men and

Bill Removes 1-Man Grand Jury Systems

LANSING (AP) — A bill removing Michigan's one-man grand jury system won unopposed House approval Wednesday.

The lower chamber voted 99-0 for the bill which, effective Oct. 1, 1970, would end probes by lone grand jurors and replace them with expanded, citizen grand juries. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Under the bill, a judge could summon a 13-to-17 member jury for a period of 90 days with one 90-day extension.

At the heart of the measure is proposed authority to grant immunity from prosecution to witnesses called by the prosecuting attorney.

If willing to testify, a witness would be allowed to have a lawyer's advice before answering any questions and his immunity women keep themselves busy and pleasantly occupied. The air of friendliness and just plain contentment is apparent the minute one steps in the door.

Retirement also can be an interesting experience.

Mrs. Norberg has tabulated 200 children of the residents, 525 grandchildren, 355 great grandchildren. One resident, Mrs. Maud Paquin, has two sons, two daughters, and 12 grandchildren, all in the service.

would extend to "all related questions which may thereafter be put..."

Refusal to appear could bring a $10,000 fine or one-year prison sentence for contempt.

Rep. Daniel Cooper, D-Oak Park, called the measure an "arsenal" for state and local attack on organized crime.

Under Michigan's present one-man grand jury system, a judge has subpoena and contempt power as well as authority to grant immunity.

However, legal experts have contended the system places too much power in one man, allowing excessive publicity, injurious stigma on witnesses.

Rep. Alfred Kramer, D-Oak Park, sought unsuccessfully to amend secrecy provisions of grand jury investigations to allow witnesses to make public comment on their appearance.

"What is so sacrosanct about a grand jury that you no longer have a bill of rights to protect you?" Kramer asked.

Under the bill, witnesses later prosecuted on possibly related charges, would be provided copies of previous grand jury questions and their answers.

The seismometer to be placed on the moon by the first U.S. astronauts there will be equipped with a tiny tuning-fork master timer programmed to operate for up to one year, Bulova Watch Co. engineers report. The tuning fork of the timer vibrates 360 times a second, or 31,104,000 times each 24 hours.

Being 'Snoopy' Leads To Gift Ideas For Dad

If you are searching for a gift for Father's Day, June 15, you might start out by taking a close look at Dad himself.

How often, for example, does a man replace one of his most important accessories, his wallet? To do away with the shabby pieces that he often has to fish out, section by section, from his back pocket, why not present the man of the house with a new, all-one-piece bill-fold?

Daughters and sons should also take a quick inventory of Dad's chest of drawers. How else would you get the idea that he could certainly use new underwear or an additional pair of pajamas? Socks and handkerchiefs are always in need of replenishing, and there are often lots of cuff links lying around in the drawer, none of which match.

However, "something different," in Father's Day gifts can often play havoc with the pocketbook. For originality-on-a-budget, why not give Dad one of today's inexpensive transistor radios, which slip easily into a pocket and can be taken along on the golf course, or while fishing or hiking.

To really show that you are observant, as well as thoughtful, "Be a little snoopy and take a real close look at what his needs are in terms of everyday items and accessories."

"We Have A Very Fine Selection Of Gifts For Father"

Sick McLain Foiled, But Tigers Prevail

DETROIT — (AP) — The thought of possibly becoming the youngest active pitcher in the major leagues to win 100 games must have plummeted from Denny McLain's head to his stomach.

Despite a severe stomach ache, the determined 25-year-old righthander suffered through nine innings only to lose to reliever Pat Dobson in his bid for No. 100.

Dobson got the win in Detroit's 4-3, 10th inning triumph over the scrappy Seattle Pilots Wednesday night on Jim Price's two-out double capping a two-run rally.

"A sick Denny McLain is better than most healthy pitchers," praised hero Price, who started for the second straight night in place of catcher Bill Freehan.

"He didn't have his stuff tonight," Price added. "But he can sometimes go out there without his stuff and win because he knows how to pitch."

A win would have given McLain a lifetime record of 100-53. No other active pitcher reached 100 victories before his 26th birthday.

He was lifted for pinch hitter Freehan in the bottom of the ninth. Dobson, 2-4, came on in the 10th with the score tied at 2-2 and after Wayne Comer popped out, John Kennedy clouted his second home run of the year in the upper deck in right-field.

Despite the pitching letdown, the Tigers came back with their decisive rally as Al Kaline opened the bottom of the frame with a single. Ron Woods ran for him and slumping Willie Horton, who replaced Gates Brown in the fifth, bunted him to second.

Norm Cash, who has been ripping the ball lately, got his third hit of the game with a single to right sending Woods to third. Then Jim Northrup, who homered in the fourth, banged a clutch single tying the game at 3-3.

After Tom Matchick filed out, Price connected with his game winning double off Pilot reliever Diego Segui, sticking Seattle's first reliever John O'Donoghue with his first loss in two decisions.

The victory before a "Family Night" crowd of 23,569 gave the Tigers two out of three over Seattle at home.

Alcindor Sued

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dennis Grey, who can't talk because his mouth has been wired to aid a broken jaw, seeks $750,000 damages from Lew Alcindor in the aftermath of an altercation between the two.

Grey, a Los Angeles Star basketball player, claims Alcindor, three-time All-American at UCLA and rookie for the Milwaukee Bucks, punched him last Saturday and the punch broke the jaw.

Alcindor said he was sorry and offered to pay all medical expenses but Wednesday, through attorney Paul Caruso, Grey filed a Superior Court suit asking $500,000 punitive damages, $250,000 general damages and an unnamed sum in case Grey loses salary if he can't play basketball any more.

Jackson Hits For 'Top Fan'

By The Associated Press

It was a whole new ballgame for the Washington Senators... until Reggie Jackson decided to introduce himself to their No. 1 fan.

President Nixon took himself out to the Senators' game against Oakland Wednesday night and applauded their comeback from a 4-0 early deficit to an extra inning standoff.

But Jackson, the Athletics' young slugging star, opened the 13th inning with his second homer of the night and the visitors added another run for a 7-5 victory.

"You've got to feel good hitting for the President," said Jackson, who slammed his first homer before Nixon arrived at the park. "He's the biggest man in the world."

"Now, at least he knows my name. He didn't know it before the game, probably."

The Senators' setback gave Nixon an 0-2 season record. He threw out the first ball in the traditional Presidential opener on April 7, then watched Ted Williams' club bow to the New York Yankees 8-4.

While Jackson remembered himself to the President, Boston rookie Joe Lahoud made a strong impression on the Minnesota Twins, hitting three home runs in a 13-5 Red Sox romp.

Elsewhere in the American League, California downed Baltimore 7-5 in 14 innings; the New York Yankees nipped Kansas City 5-4 in 11; Detroit squeezed past Seattle 4-3 in 10 and the Chicago White Sox beat Cleveland 4-3.

Lahoud, batting .083 with no extra base hits and one RBI going into the game at Minnesota, poked a two-run homer down the right field line in the second inning and curled bases-empty shots just inside the foul pole in the fifth and eighth.

Dick Schofield, with three doubles, and George Scott and Reggie Smith, with three singles apiece, teamed with Lahoud to pace the Red Sox' 16-hit assault on loser Dave Boswell and six successors.

Tom Satriano's two-run pinch single in the 14th broke a 5-5 knot at Baltimore as the Angels beat the Orioles and a local curfew, which prohibits an inning from being started after 11:59 p.m.

Bobby Cox' run-scoring pinch double with two out in the 11th lifted the Yankees past Kansas City. Lou Piniella drilled a two-run inside-the-park homer and singled home another run for the Royals, giving him seven RBI in his last two starts.

The White Sox struck for three unearned runs in the seventh, handed Luis Tiant his eight loss of the season and won for the fourth time in as many Milwaukee home games. Errors by Vern Fuller and Tony Horton opened the gates in the seventh before Bobby Knoop and Buddy Bradford stroked run-scoring singles, tying the game 3-3, and pinch hitter Duane Josephson delivered the go-ahead run with a sacrifice fly.

Azcue AWOL

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The Boston Red Sox front office and Manager Dick Williams were to meet today to discuss the fate of their AWOL catcher Joe Azcue.

Azcue left the club without permission Wednesday afternoon and flew to his home in Kansas City after telling Boston officials he wanted to be traded. "No comment," Williams said.

Wills Back In L.A., Cubs Get Popovich

By The Associated Press

This is the season that will go down in baseball history as the year in which players were traded, retired, then unretired and players retired, unretired and were traded.

Donn Clendenon and Ken Harrelson are in the first category, Maury Wills in the second.

Wills, who announced his retirement last week but remained retired for just 48 hours, was back in his old leadoff spot with Los Angeles Wednesday night following the Dodgers' trade with the Montreal Expos.

The presence of the 36-year-old shortstop didn't help, however, as Philadelphia blanked the Dodgers 3-0.

Elsewhere in the National League, San Francisco stopped the New York Mets' 11-game winning streak 7-2. Atlanta whipped the Chicago Cubs 5-1. St. Louis ripped Cincinnati 10-5. Pittsburgh outsluged Houston 13-8 and San Diego edged Montreal 6-5 in 10 innings.

The Dodgers got Wills back after a nearly 2½-year absence by sending Montreal Ron Fairly and Paul Popovich. The Dodgers also obtained Manny Mota from the Expos. Popovich was traded by Montreal to the Cubs for outfielder Adolfo Phillips and relief pitcher Jack LaMabe.

Wills started quickly. In the first inning, he beat out a grounder to short for a single and then stole his 16th base of the season.

But then he slowed down just as quickly. The rest of the night he grounded out to second, grounded out to third and flied out to left.

The rest of the Dodgers didn't do any better against the Phillies' Billy Champion, who allowed just five hits in his second major league start. John Callison doubled home a pair of Philadelphia runs in the first inning.

The majors longest winning streak of the season came to an end when Gaylord Perry halted the Mets on four hits. Ron Hunt, Willie Mays and Willie McCovey provided the key hits for the Giants with McCovey getting two hits after the Mets walked him three straight times.

Atlanta beat the Cubs for the first time in five tries this season as Phil Niekro pitched a two-hitter for his 10th victory against four defeats. The Braves exploded for four runs in the first inning, two on Orlando Cepeda's bases-loaded double.

Montreal Buys Detroit Winger

MONTREAL — (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens purchased Chuck Hamilton, a right winger, from the Detroit Red Wings in a National Hockey League transaction Wednesday.

The Red Wings had acquired Hamilton from Hershey of the American League in Tuesday's inter-league draft. He scored 28 goals and had 46 assists in the AHL last season.

Little League

HERMANSVILLE—The Hermansville Little League baseball team came out on top end of a 5-4 score in a game played at Felch Monday evening which had to go into extra innings.

The winning run came after Steve Maule doubled and later scored on an error in the seventh inning.

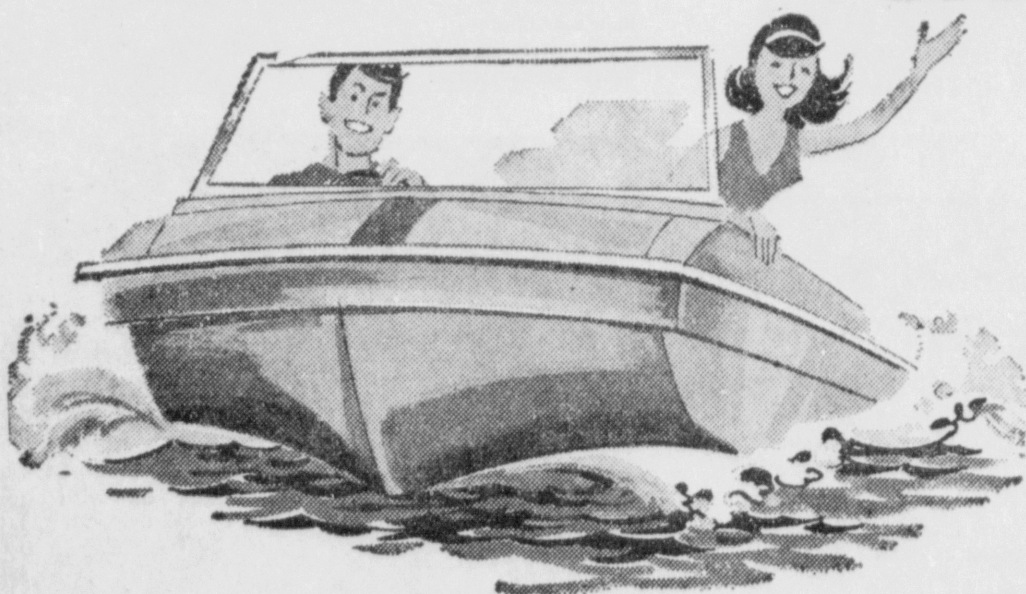

Maule, who relieved Ken Raiche for Hermansville, got credit for the victory. Raiche had 10 strikeouts and gave up five hits while Maule struck out the side in the seventh.

Maule, Tim Fabry and Tom Maule each had two hits for Hermansville. The team now has a record of four victories and two defeats.

Sick McLain Foiled, But Tigers Prevail

DETROIT — (AP) — The thought of possibly becoming the youngest active pitcher in the major leagues to win 100 games must have plummeted from Denny McLain's head to his stomach.

Despite a severe stomach ache, the determined 25-year-old righthander suffered through nine innings only to lose to reliever Pat Dobson in his bid for No. 100.

Dobson got the win in Detroit's 4-3, 10th inning triumph over the scrappy Seattle Pilots Wednesday night on Jim Price's two-out double capping a two-run rally.

"A sick Denny McLain is better than most healthy pitchers," praised hero Price, who started for the second straight night in place of catcher Bill Freehan.

"He didn't have his stuff tonight," Price added. "But he can sometimes go out there without his stuff and win because he knows how to pitch." A win would have given McLain a lifetime record of 100-53. No other active pitcher reached 100 victories before his 26th birthday.

He was lifted for pinch hitter Freehan in the bottom of the ninth. Dobson, 2-4, came on in the 10th with the score tied at 2-2 and after Wayne Comer popped out, John Kennedy clouted his second home run of the year in the upper deck in right field.

Despite the pitching letdown, the Tigers came back with their decisive rally as Al Kaline opened the bottom of the frame with a single. Ron Woods ran for him and slumping Willie Horton, who replaced Gates Brown in the fifth, bunted him to second.

Norm Cash, who has been ripping the ball lately, got his third hit of the game with a single to right sending Woods to third. Then Jim Northrup, who homered in the fourth, banged a clutch single tying the game at 3-3.

After Tom Matchick filed out, Price connected with his game winning double off Pilot reliever Diego Segui, sticking Seattle's first reliever John O'Donoghue with his first loss in two decisions.

The victory before a "Family Night" crowd of 23,569 gave the Tigers two out of three over Seattle at home.

Archer Out For Golf's Grand Slam

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — George Archer set out today in quest of the impossible dream, the never accomplished grand slam of professional golf.

"Sure, you think about it," the 6-foot-6 Masters champion said before today's first round in the United States Open Golf Tournament.

"But you don't think about it real serious. You think about it like you think about winning the Irish Sweepstakes, it's nice to dream about, you don't expect it to happen."

Only four men have ever won all four of the major titles, the Masters, Open, British Open and PGA—and no one has ever swept them all in a single season.

Four Americans Gain In Amateur

HOYLAKE, England (AP) — Hunter McDonald of Southfield, Mich., was one of 11 American golfers eliminated in the second round of the British Amateur Golf Championship Wednesday.

Only four Americans moved into the final 32 holes of play.

Another American, Pete Boswick, a 34-year-old stock broker from Locust Valley, N.Y., upset Ireland's Joe Carr, a three-time winner, in the third round.

But Californian Dick Daives, the 1962 winner, was ousted in the same round by an unknown Frenchman, Raymond Wattine.

Outdoor Sports

By Bob Gregg

One of my fishing friends, Fran Roberts a salesman from Escanaba, and I were fishing the deep rapids just below the Cornell public access site on the Escanaba River when he let out a yell in my direction: "I got a dandy on. Come up here and get that picture before I lose it."

I hurried down the bank to the spot where Fran was playing his fish and snapped a couple of shots of the action. After a few minutes of scrappy battle, Fran finally landed the nice 16-inch brown trout and then he and I stood in the cool waters of the Escanaba and talked about the river that had just yielded such a beautiful fish.

"The Escanaba is better than ever," said Fran. "More fish and bigger fish are being caught this year than any season I can remember."

I've watched Fran in action several times and I can safely say that he's a terrific young fly-fisherman who knows his stuff.

During the season he fishes the river almost daily and like many Escanaba fly-fishermen catches most of his trout on orange and white bucktail streamer.

"That bucktail is a real killer," said Fran.

I've been fishing the Escanaba for three weeks now, and I believe it's the most beautiful, alluring and trout-filled stream I've ever fished.

For 18½ miles it runs through woods, farms, and meadows, past clear feeder brooks and waterfalls on its way to the dam at Chandler Falls and then to Lake Michigan.

The stream is easy to wade, and the deeper holes are easily accessible. The stream is made up of solid bedrock, with cracks and fissures of all sizes and deeper depressions that contain an accumulation of rubble and fine stone.

This unusual make-up provides excellent cover for big trout and the food organisms they need to feed on.

Many anglers fish the river thinking that the Escanaba trout is sort of on the dumb side. They couldn't be farther from the truth. The lunkers of the Escanaba are Casey old giants and if you want to add them to your creel you'll have to avoid sloppy casting and noisy wading.

"The better anglers catch 14-18 inch trout almost daily," reported Frank Opolka, district conservation officer.

"But I still see a vast majority of fishermen getting skunked due to their own carelessness," Opolka added.

Cliff Long, district fish biologist told me that trout planted a year ago at 7 inches possibly could have grown to five pounds by now. "Last year we planted over 18,000 rainbows and browns, and this year we hope to plant even more," Long said.

"Within a couple of years, the Escanaba will be one of the finest trout streams in the United States," Long pointed out.

I think the Escanaba has already reached the status Long says is two years away, and with continued planting it can only get better.

In my past five trips to the Escanaba, I've caught 19 trout ranging from 14 to 18 inches on Italian spinners and royal coachmen streamers. So I can easily say the Escanaba has been good to me.

I've found some of the best spots to be Shea's Hole, just above the home of Bill Karas; near the bridge at Cornell; the public access site below Cornell; and immediately downstream from Boney Falls dam.

Almost as good as fishing the Escanaba yourself is watching an old pro like Pete Johnson or his son "Sleepy" in action. These two, and others, have proven over the years that fly-fishing (wet and dry) is the most consistent way to take big Escanaba trout.

In all areas of the Escanaba you'll find the fishing action fast and furious, and when you return home you'll find the trout delicious.

Give it a try, you can't go wrong.

And Littler. That's my three choices."

And how about Archer?

"Forget Archer. That bum can't get off the first tee. He's not playing too good."

No 'Big' Deals In NHL Draft

MONTREAL (AP) — Sixteen players were drafted at a total cost of $480,000 at the National Hockey League's annual intra-league draft Wednesday. However, despite the large sum involved at $30,000 a head, there were really no big deals or surprises.

The Montreal Canadiens emerged virtually unscathed from the operation even though they lost three fringe players.

The Canadiens, Stanley Cup champions, lost goaltender Tony Esposito, to Chicago, defenseman Larry Hillman to Philadelphia and forward Richard Sentes to Minnesota, who was the initial pick in the draft.

Montreal also purchased goalie Jack Norris from Chicago, who was dropped in favor of Esposito.

Chicago lost defenseman Matt Ravlich to Detroit and forwards Andre Boudrias and Wayne Maki to St. Louis.

On the other hand, Chicago drafted Esposito from Montreal, Lou Angotti from St. Louis and Howie Menard from Los Angeles.

Four clubs did not draft at all. They were Los Angeles, Oakland, New York and Boston.

Detroit lost veteran left winger Dean Prentice to Pittsburgh but gained Ravlich from Chicago.

Goalie Marv Edwards was the lone player drafted by Toronto, which gave up Al Smith to Pittsburgh in what turned out to be a straight exchange of netminders. The Leafs also lost right winger Larry Mickey to Montreal.

AAU Asks NCAA Track Sanction

LOS ANGELES (AP) — United States college undergraduate track and field stars may be able to compete against the Russians after all.

Hilmer Lodge, chairman of the Amateur Athletic Union's track and field committee, said Wednesday that he has asked the National Collegiate Athletic Association to sanction the AAU national meet.

"Since the NCAA has permitted its athletes to compete in our previous meets this year, I can see no reason why it should not give us a sanction for this one," said Lodge.

UFER PACES YALE

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Before his career ends at Yale, sophomore Bob Ufer of Ann Arbor, Mich., probably will score many more goals for the Eli hockey team.

But Ufer will remember the second goal he scored on March 1. That goal came on a rising 35-foot forehead shot in a sudden death overtime to give Yale a 3-2 upset over Harvard.

Ufer led Yale in scoring last season with 17 goals and 10 assists. He netted the winning goal in four of Yale's nine victories.

EX-QUARTERBACK BUSY

DENVER (AP) — When Otto Graham quarterbacked the Cleveland Browns his backup man was George Ratterman. Ratterman is now in the investment business in Denver but travels a lot for football telecasts.

Maybe not, but he's made over $66,000 on the tour so far this year and is one of three players to score multiple victories, taking the Big Crosby before making the Masters his first major title.

Misses Tournaments

Since then, however, he's played only occasionally.

"I've had a lot of commitments," the 29-year-old said. "And I missed a couple of tournaments when I hurt my hand."

That came when a match book burst into flame as he was lighting a cigarette after an exhibition in Brazil two weeks after the Masters. He's finished only two tournaments since then, tying for 16th in last week's Western Open.

Registration for Recreation League Baseball and Softball will begin at the Catherine Bonifas Civic Center on Monday, June 16, at 10 a.m. Sign-up of players will continue through the week from Monday to Friday from 10 in the morning until noon and from 1:30 to 4 in the afternoon.

Each year the Recreation Leagues register about 200 boys who do not belong to an organized baseball group in the city. The leagues are intended to serve boys who are anxious to play baseball or softball but are not on a Little League or Babe Ruth team. The program operates informally and uniforms are not provided. The only criterion is a desire to play ball.

Placed In Leagues

The program provides wholesome recreation under competent supervision and the youngsters acquire game skills by instruction in baseball fundamentals. The boys are taught to throw, hit, field, slide, and run bases. They are also given an opportunity to play several positions and are guided in choosing a position suitable to their abilities. Sportsmanship is emphasized and every precaution is taken to prevent accidents and injuries.

Boys 7 to 10 years of age are placed in the Beginners League and boys 10 to 13 are enrolled in the Junior Division. Ten-year-olds may play in the Beginners League if their size and ability indicate that they belong with that group. The Cadet League is for boys 14 to 17 years of age. Both hardball and softball will be offered to the Junior and Cadet leagues but activity in the Beginners League will be confined to hardball.

beginners playing in the morning and the older boys playing in the afternoon. Once each week games will be scheduled at the Webster playground and the new Jefferson School. If a game conflicts with swimming lessons, the recreation department recommends that the youngsters attend swimming class.

Boys are excused from games and practice sessions when these activities conflict with Bible Camp, Boy Scout Camp, Band Camp, summer school, swimming classes or family vacations.

To Organize Teams

Teams will be organized on a school basis during the week of June 16 and official league play will begin on June 23. No tryouts are necessary and all registered boys will be placed on a team and given a chance to play in every game.

Boys are asked to pay a $1 fee when they register in order to be eligible for the annual picnic at Ludington Park on Aug. 7.

The recreation department furnishes all necessary equipment except gloves. Boys' gloves should be plainly marked with the owner's name. The week's schedule will be reported on WDCC and WLST and will appear in the Saturday edition of the Escanaba Daily Press.

Archer Out For Golf's 'Grand Slam'

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — George Archer set out today in quest of the impossible dream, the never accomplished grand slam of professional golf.

"Sure, you think about it," the 6-foot-6 Masters champion said before today's first round in the United States Open Golf Tournament.

"But you don't think about it real serious. You think about it like you think about winning the Irish Sweepstakes, it's nice to dream about, you don't expect it to happen."

Only four men have ever won all four of the major titles, the Masters, Open, British Open and PGA—and no one has ever swept them all in a single season.

and Littler. That's my three choices."

And how about Archer?

"Forget Archer. That bum can't get off the first tee. He's not playing too good."

Four Americans Gain In Amateur

HOYLAKE, England (AP) — Hunter McDonald of Southfield, Mich., was one of 11 American golfers eliminated in the second round of the British Amateur Golf Championship Wednesday.

Only four Americans moved into the final 32 holes of play.

Another American, Pete Boswick, a 34-year-old stock broker from Locust Valley, N.Y., upset Ireland's Joe Carr, a three-time winner, in the third round.

But Californian Dick Davies, the 1962 winner, was ousted in the same round by an unknown Frenchman, Raymond Wattine.

Five For Three

Archer, a gangling, relaxed guy with a curiously high voice and infectious grin, was asked to pick a winner in the field of 150 who are competing for the world's most prestigious title.

"Give me three choices, huh?" he said. "Okay. I'm a hunch player. I'll pick Bert Hunch. That's a hunch. And you've got to go with (Billy) Casper. He's playing some kind of golf. And you can't pass up (Gary) Player. He's playing real good."

"But how do you leave out (Frank) Beard? You can't leave him out. Give me four choices. And (Gene) Littler. You can't leave him off the list."

"Yeah, three choices. Okay. Yancey, Casper, Beard, Player

No 'Big' Deals In NHL Draft

MONTREAL (AP) — Sixteen players were drafted at a total cost of $480,000 at the National Hockey League's annual intra-league draft Wednesday. However, despite the large sum involved at $30,000 a head, there were really no big deals or surprises.

The Montreal Canadiens emerged virtually unscathed from the operation even though they lost three fringe players.

The Canadiens, Stanley Cup champions, lost goaltender Tony Esposito, to Chicago, defenseman Larry Hillman to Philadelphia and forward Richard Sentes to Minnesota, who was the initial pick in the draft.

Montreal also purchased goalie Jack Norris from Chicago, who was dropped in favor of Esposito.

Chicago lost defenseman Matt Ravlich to Detroit and forwards Andre Boudrias and Wayne Maki to St. Louis.

On the other hand, Chicago drafted Esposito from Montreal, Lou Angotti from St. Louis and Howie Menard from Los Angeles.

Four clubs did not draft at all. They were Los Angeles, Oakland, New York and Boston.

Detroit lost veteran left winger Dean Prentice to Pittsburgh but gained Ravlich from Chicago.

Goalie Marv Edwards was the lone player drafted by Toronto, which gave up Al Smith to Pittsburgh in what turned out to be a straight exchange of netminders. The Leafs also lost right winger Larry Mickey to Montreal.

Maybe not, but he's made over $66,000 on the tour so far this year and is one of three players to score multiple victories, taking the Big Crosby before making the Masters his first major title.

Misses Tournaments

Since then, however, he's played only occasionally.

"I've had a lot of commitments," the 29-year-old said. "And I missed a couple of tournaments when I hurt my hand."

That came when a match book burst into flame as he was lighting a cigarette after an exhibition in Brazil two weeks before the Masters. He's finished only two tournaments since then, tying for 16th in last week's Western Open.

Outdoor Sports

By Bob Gregg

One of my fishing friends, Fran Roberts a salesman from Escanaba, and I were fishing the deep rapids just below the Cornell public access site on the Escanaba River when he let out a yell in my direction: "I got a dandy on. Come up here and get that picture before I lose it."

I hurried down the bank to the spot where Fran was playing his fish and snapped a couple of shots of the action. After a few minutes of scrappy battle, Fran finally landed the nice 16-inch brown trout and then he and I stood in the cool waters of the Escanaba and talked about the river that had just yielded such a beautiful fish.

"The Escanaba is better than ever," said Fran. "More fish and bigger fish are being caught this year than any season I can remember."

I've watched Fran in action several times and I can safely say that he's a terrific young fly-fisherman who knows his stuff.

During the season he fishes the river almost daily and like many Escanaba fly-fishermen catches most of his trout on orange and white bucktail streamer.

"That bucktail is a real killer," said Fran.

I've been fishing the Escanaba for three weeks now, and I believe it's the most beautiful, alluring and trout-filled stream I've ever fished.

For 18½ miles it runs through woods, farms, and meadows, past clear feeder brooks and waterfalls on its way to the dam at Chandler Falls and then to Lake Michigan.

The stream is easy to wade, and the deeper holes are easily accessible. The stream is made up of solid bedrock, with cracks and fissures of all sizes and deeper depressions that contain an accumulation of rubble and fine stone.

This unusual make-up provides excellent cover for big trout and the food organisms they need to feed on.

Many anglers fish the river thinking that the Escanaba trout is sort of on the dumb side. They couldn't be farther from the truth. The lunkers of the Escanaba are cagey old giants and if you want to add them to your creel you'll have to avoid sloppy casting and noisy wading.

"The better anglers catch 14-18 inch trout almost daily," reported Frank Opolka, district conservation officer.

"But I still see a vast majority of fishermen getting skunked due to their own carelessness," Opolka added.

Cliff Long, district fish biologist told me that trout planted a year ago at 7 inches possibly could have grown a five pounds by now. "Last year we planted over 18,000 rainbows and browns, and this year we hope to plant even more," Long said.

"Within a couple of years, the Escanaba will be one of the finest trout streams in the United States," Long pointed out.

I think the Escanaba has already reached the status Long says is two years away, and with continued planting it can only get better.

In my past five trips to the Escanaba, I've caught 19 trout ranging from 14 to 18 inches on Italian spinners and royal coachmen streamers. So I can easily say the Escanaba has been good to me.

I've found some of the best spots to be Shea's Hole, just above the home of Bill Karas; near the bridge at Cornell; the public access site below Cornell; and immediately downstream from Boney Falls dam.

Almost as good as fishing the Escanaba yourself is watching an old pro like Pete Johnson or his son "Sleepy" in action. These two, and others, have proven over the years that fly-fishing (wet and dry) is the most consistent way to take big Escanaba trout.

In all areas of the Escanaba you'll find the fishing action fast and furious, and when you return home you'll find the trout delicious.

Give it a try, you can't go wrong.

AAU Asks NCAA Track Sanction

LOS ANGELES (AP) — United States college undergraduate track and field stars may be able to compete against the Russians after all.

Hilmer Lodge, chairman of the Amateur Athletic Union's track and field committee, said Wednesday that he has asked the National Collegiate Athletic Association to sanction the AAU national meet.

"Since the NCAA has permitted its athletes to compete in our previous meets this year, I can see no reason why it should not give us a sanction for this one," said Lodge.

UFER PACES YALE

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Before his career ends at Yale, sophomore Bob Ufer of Ann Arbor, Mich., probably will score many more goals for the Eli hockey team.

But Ufer will remember the second goal he scored on March 1. That goal came on a rising 35-foot forehead shot in a sudden death overtime to give Yale a 3-2 upset over Harvard.

Ufer led Yale in scoring last season with 17 goals and 10 assists. He netted the winning goal in four of Yale's nine victories.

9 Bakeries Cited For Price-Fixing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nine Michigan bakeries have accepted a settlement on federal civil anti-trust charges which will bar them from further conspiring to fix prices of bread and other pastries.

The nine were charged with conspiring to raise, fix, maintain and stabilize prices, terms and conditions of bakery products in Michigan. The settlement filed in U.S. District Court in Grand Rapids Tuesday, will become effective July 10.

The nine companies are Dutch Treat Bakers Inc., Gase Baking Co., Grocers Baking Co., Michigan Bakers Inc., Roskam Baking Co., Schafter Bakeries Inc., Way Baking Co., Koeplinger's Bakery Inc., and Silvercup Bread Inc.

There is no indication yet if the settlement will affect bread prices.

The settlement also sets limitations on the exchange of price information among the baking companies and other sellers of bakery products.

The same nine bakeries were tried on criminal price-fixing charges early in 1968 in U.S. District Court in Grand Rapids. The companies did not contend the charges and were fined.

Four other bakeries are facing similar anti-trust charges and are yet to reach an agreement. These are American Bakeries Co., Continental Baking Co., Rainbo Bread Co. and Ward Foods Inc.

9 Bakeries Cited For Price-Fixing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nine Michigan bakeries have accepted a settlement on federal civil anti-trust charges which will bar them from further conspiring to fix prices of bread and other pastries.

The nine were charged with conspiring to raise, fix, maintain and stabilize prices, terms and conditions of bakery products in Michigan. The settlement filed in U.S. District Court in Grand Rapids Tuesday, will become effective July 10.

The nine companies are Dutch Treat Bakers Inc., Gase Baking Co., Grocers Baking Co., Michigan Bakers Inc., Roskam Baking Co., Schafter Bakeries Inc., Way Baking Co., Koepplinger's Bakery Inc., and Silvercup Bread Inc.

There is no indication yet if the settlement will affect bread prices.

The settlement also sets limitations on the exchange of price information among the baking companies and other sellers of bakery products.

The same nine bakeries were tried on criminal price-fixing charges early in 1968 in U.S. District Court in Grand Rapids. The companies did not contend the charges and were fined.

Four other bakeries are facing similar anti-trust charges and are yet to reach an agreement. These are American Bakeries Co., Continental Baking Co., Rainbo Bread Co. and Ward Foods Inc.

BUT... Let's not take it all for granted... let's pause, reflect and be grateful that our children will be spared to us because they were and are, those who love children enough to find the answers.

One thing you can take for granted however! When you bring us a prescription for the baby, the pharmacists at GROSS DRUG STORE... 1007 Ludington St... fill it with loving care. We like ADULTS too... Come to us for the finest in prescription service... or phone ST 6-3552.
